

BEWARE how you interfere too much with the course of nature. A Chicago physician claims to have developed a baby so that it could walk at five weeks old, by exposing it to ultra-violet rays, which stimulate the assimilation of calcium, on which the hardening of the bones depends. Calcium is essential to the growth of children. Calcium deficiency means rickets, with its attendant evils. But calcium excess is also the bane of age. The same thing which strengthens the bones of the young hastens the hardening of the arteries of the old. The child that walks at five weeks may be the precursor of the man who is stiff and rheumatic at forty.

OR HE may not. Nobody has tried it through yet, and we know such things only by experience.

At any rate, investigation has removed most of our traditions regarding the other kind of precocity, which is mental. The notion used to be that the child whose mind developed too young was likely to "flash in the pan," or at least to be injured by too much learning and thinking. Alleged historic examples were constantly quoted to show that the school dunces were likely to be a genius than the prize scholar. Now we know that if the future genius did not show in school, it was the school's fault. The surest way to pick the brightest child in a class is to pick the youngest. And the brightest child—provided you find out which one is really the brightest—is almost certain to be the brightest man. Also, the chief wrong we do to these brightest children is to "hold them back" intellectually. Giving them tasks which they can do too easily gets them into mischief, to occupy the rest of the time, and inculcates habits of laziness. The serious blunder is to overdrive them socially. The bright children may think the thoughts and do the learning of men, but they should do the playing of children, with playmates of their own age. So at least Professor Terman of Stanford, who knows more about it than any one else, says.

ALSO, don't run off after food fads. So much has been learned about food, these last few years, that some people, usually those who know the least, pretend to know too much. The raw food fad, the fasting fad, the no-meat or no-starch fad, vegetarianism, Fletcherism, Bernarrism, and all the rest, are all half-truths. That is much worse than truths which have no truth at all. If you have a definite lesion, like diabetes, follow your doctor's instructions. And see to it that you have a doctor. If there is nothing definite the matter, but you are inclined to "diet" because somebody else did it—see your doctor about that too. The chances are that he will just smile, and advise you to eat the usual things.

THE quack doctors are getting fewer, and less dangerous. But the quack psychologists and quack educators are getting more numerous and more dangerous. They advertise in the best magazines, which long ago rejected the quack doctors, and make a parade of imitation intellectualism, which catches many. Beware of the psychologist who wants to sell you something for money, with which you are to make money. That is not what psychology is for. And beware of the educationist who offers a royal road to knowledge. For a few minutes a day, without labor, and without brains, you get no education. And whatever you do get is likely to be worth about what you pay for it, in genuine effort.

WHEN Secretary Kellogg refused to allow the woman Ambassador of Russia, accredited to Mexico, to pass through the United States, even in bond, like a Chinese contract laborer, he was acting exactly within the rights of the United States, so there was no complaint, except from enlightened Americans, who realized that it does not pay to make a great nation ridiculous, even when there is no law against it. Now the case is turned on its head. The republic of Haiti has refused to permit Senator King of Utah, eminent Democrat, to land, on the ground that he is an undesirable alien, engaged in propaganda against the Haitian form of government and its present administration, and is not fit to associate with the inhabitants. Being a "sovereign nation" the open-bouffé is also within its rights. Its absurdity only serves to enable us to see ourselves as others see us, when we also make ourselves ridiculous.

NORMAN Hapgood, ex-officio judge of all wisdom and knowledge, speaks with praise of the unwelcome knowledge of foreign affairs of Senator Walsh, who actually knew which reservation to the World Court would keep us out of it, and what objection England would make to it. No other Senator, Mr. Hapgood opines, has such knowledge.

Lamentably, the complaint is doubtless deserved. Senator Walsh does know the obvious things, which any well-informed student of foreign affairs should know, including the bit of information used as an illustration—which, outside of the Senate, was perfectly familiar to every observer entitled to an opinion at all. The shock is to have it asserted that no other Senator knows them. The Senate was given a monopoly of authority over foreign relations, because it was supposed that the greater knowledge and experience of its members would save us from the blunders which might come from participation by the House of Representatives. Now we find it is Senators themselves who exhibit the most grotesque ignorance of the whole matter. It is well that Mr. Walsh knows what is going on. If he is, as Mr. Hapgood says, the only one, he should be the whole Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Roar of Guns Heard in Shanghai

DEFEAT OF NORTHERNERS IS PREDICTED

Cantonese Troops Reported To Have Taken District 20 Miles South of City

SOOCHOW EVACUATED

Defense Against Nationalists Collapsing, Despite Good Morale of Soldiers

BULLETIN
SHANGHAI, March 19.—The U. S. Marine corps contingent here was ordered today to parade in Shanghai Monday in full war kit with bayonets.

(By United Press)
SHANGHAI, March 19.—While guns boomed within earshot of Shanghai today, an unconfirmed report was circulated in the city that the Cantonese Nationalists had captured Sunkiang, about 30 miles south, on the Shanghai-Ningpo railway.

The north China allies fell back to Sunkiang several days ago, after being driven out of Hangchow, about 100 miles south of here.

A complete northern defeat was predicted here and it was believed the Chang Chung Chang defense army might be forced to fall back to the outskirts of Shanghai.

The Canton troops also were reported continuing their drive toward Nanking, northwest of Shanghai.

Shanghai's fall hourly seemed nearer today, as reports from the front reported the Cantonese Nationalists advancing on all offensives.

Soochow was reported to have been evacuated and the opposition to the Cantonese in that area seemed to be collapsing despite excellent and comparatively high morale.

Shanghai's fall depended upon General Pi Shou Chen, whose attitude toward the Cantonese was subject to doubt, although he is the commander of the north China allied garrison here.

Cantonese occupation of Shanghai was not expected to cause much change in the status of the foreign settlement, at least for the present.

NORTHERN FORCES HEAVILY REINFORCED

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Northern China forces engaged in defense of Nanking were reported to have been heavily reinforced and appeared to be recovering ground, according to latest state department advices today.

At noon yesterday, southern troops had reached Lushui, 40 miles east of Nanking and there was fighting at that place and to the west, the nearest point to Nanking being about 30 miles. Nanking was anxious but is quiet, said a dispatch from American Consul John K. Davis, Nanking.

Two students of the Southwestern university, Chinese institution, have been executed.

Chinkiang was apprehensive of an attack by southern forces but there was no information as to the actual military situation in that sector at the time the consular dispatch was sent.

Promoter Sought On Fraud Charge

FRESNO, March 19.—Harry M. Allen, Huntington Lake land promoter, was sought today by sheriff's deputies on a warrant charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses. The warrant was issued after the complaint of Milton P. Bell, Oil Fields, that he had been defrauded of $750 because Allen made false representations to him.

INCOME TAX CASE AGAINST CHAPLIN TO COME UP SOON

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, March 19.—The government's income tax case against Charlie Chaplin, film comedian, will be acted on by the internal revenue bureau within a short time, it was stated at the treasury today.

Secrecy surrounds the entire case, in which the government seeks more than $1,000,000 in back taxes, which it asserts Chaplin owes.

ANTI-SEMITIC CAMPAIGN MAY YET BE ISSUE IN FORD CASE

Want Dearborn Independent Articles Put Into Evidence

(BY UNITED PRESS)
DETROIT, Mich., March 19.—Henry Ford's entire anti-semitic campaign may yet be made an issue in the Ford-Sapiro million dollar libel suit, if Sapiro has his way.

The trial adjourned until Monday, with an argument in the hands of the judge which, if looked upon favorably, might permit Sapiro to put into evidence all the articles regarding the Jewish race which the Dearborn Independent, Ford's paper, has printed since 1920.

At the close of court, yesterday, attorneys were discussing this point with Federal Judge Ford M. Raymond. The defense spiritedly opposed the suggestion. The court took the matter under advisement.

Pertinent to Case
"We contend that all of those articles are pertinent to this case," a member of Sapiro's legal staff told the United Press, "because they show criticism of the Jewish people preceded a specific attack upon Aaron Sapiro, an individual member of the Jewish race. In that way they are proof of malice on the part of Ford, an important point in this case."

The complete files of the Dearborn Independent have been produced by the defense under subpoena and will be available should all or part be admitted as evidence.

The principals in the case have scattered considerably during the recess between now and Monday. Senators James A. Reed, chief of the defense counsel, has gone to Washington, D. C. Judge Raymond held court today in Grand Rapids, Mich., his home, and others from out of town went to their homes.

Jury Not Locked Up
The jury was not locked up, its members being permitted to come and go as they see fit.

Prospects are that even if Ford testifies Monday, as promised, he may not take the stand until late in the day. Sapiro's lawyers admitted they had found William J. Cameron, editor of the Dearborn Independent, an interesting witness and planned to question him closely Monday. At least one other witness will be called before Ford unless plans are changed.

DECLARE POLAND PLANS ULTIMATUM

BERLIN, March 19.—Sensational reports that Poland would celebrate the birthday of President Pilsudski today by delivering an ultimatum to Lithuania or even invading that country were published in Berlin newspapers.

The unconfirmed reports came from German and Russian sources. Poland and Lithuania long have been at odds over possession of Vilna.

A conspiracy to overthrow the Lithuanian government was reported to have been exposed at Kovno. The fifth infantry regiment had planned to revolt, according to the report.

U. S. Marine Killed By Blow on Head

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Marine Sgt. James Wright Montague, Richmond, Va., was killed at Shanghai, China, "by a blow by a sharp instrument in line of duty," the navy was advised today.

C. S. Hill reported that Montague's death was not due to any misconduct and he corrected earlier reports that death was due to drowning. The blow caused concussion of the brain.

Lack of further details led officers to believe Montague was slain mysteriously and that his assailants were unknown. Montague's nearest relative was a sister, Eva Blanton, Richmond.

GOLD SEEKERS STREAM TO ARIZONA BONANZA

DRIPPING SPRINGS, Ariz., March 19.—Although pessimism prevailed among keen-eyed old desert rats as to the richness of Arizona's latest bonanza, a procession of novice gold seekers continued to stream across these mountain ranges today.

Personal inspection of the strike region has convinced skeptical veterans that hula-balo raised over the discovery is just a flare that will quickly subside.

However, the number of claims continued to increase hourly for several miles on all side of the Tornado group, the nucleus of the strike.

Two Hindus Are Found Murdered

GLENDORA, March 19.—Two Hindus were found murdered under mysterious circumstances in a shack, five miles east of here, today, according to a report to the sheriff's office here. No details of the murder were given, but the two men are said to have been slain while they slept. Deputy sheriffs left here to begin an investigation.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN KANSAS TOWN

Comparative Quiet Reigns In Coffeyville Following Attempt to Lynch Negro

RACE RIOT SUBDUED

Authorities Claim Colored Man Innocent of Crime Against 2 School Girls

(By United Press)
COFFEYVILLE, Kas., March 19.—Martial law and comparative quiet prevailed in Coffeyville today, after a night of terror.

Cozy authorities announced at 2:30 a. m., through a local newspaper, that Curtis Smith, whom several hundred enraged citizens tried to lynch last night, was absolutely innocent of the outrageous crime of which he was accused. He was released early today.

Two other negroes, who had been arrested in connection with the brutal assaults on two high school girls, were released last night.

Sheriff W. D. McCrabb said that officers in Humboldt, Kas., arrested three negroes who answer the descriptions of the attackers and an investigation will be made immediately.

Lynching Is Attempted
The attempt to lynch the three prisoners and the resultant race riot last night was precipitated by brutal assaults against Miss Julia Mooney and Miss Margaret Akers.

Throughout Friday, feeling grew more intense. When a pack of bloodhounds led a posse of officers and citizens to a shack in the negro quarter where a negro woman was guarding three sleeping negro men with a shotgun, talk of lynching the prisoners went about quickly.

At 10 p. m., a mob gathered around the city jail, which is in the city hall, and tried to storm it. A pitched battle between the guards at the jail and the mob ensued. Would-be lynchers crawled across a ladder, which had been put over the street from a bank building to the jail building and were driven back only when officers threw tear gas bombs.

The rioters finally were allowed to enter the jail cells and were convinced that two of the negroes had been released and the other spirited away.

Prepared For Battle
It was learned this morning that negro rioters, who had been attacked by the whites, had dug a trench in an alley across the street from the city hall and were prepared for a gun battle with the attacking party.

The announcement that Governor Paulsen had proclaimed martial law and that the negroes had been released served only to add to the rage of the irate citizens who then marched on the negro quarter, seizing two negroes and flogging them as they advanced.

It was only the presence of three units of state troops which had been rushed here during the afternoon and evening that prevented a battle between armed negroes and the whites at midnight. At 1 a. m., a deluge of rain dispersed the rioters and they went home.

Services Monday For Noted Lawyer

SANTA MONICA, March 19.—Funeral services for Alfred Lawrence Black, noted attorney, who died in the Brentwood sanatorium yesterday, will be conducted here today.

Death followed an illness of several months. Black was born in Jobstown, N. J. In 1886 he came to the Pacific coast and, when the city of Bellingham, Wn., merged with the cities of Farhaven and Whatcom, he was elected the first mayor.

He came into prominence in a bitter battle against the coal combine in San Francisco, later establishing a position of prominence in legal circles in the northern city.

Ill health brought him to Southern California in 1916.

Angered Husband Shoots Wife, Self

LONG BEACH, March 19.—Angered when his wife refused to return home with him, F. W. McElrath, wealthy Oregon rancher, shot her and turned the gun on himself, police said today. Both are in hospitals with only slight hope extended for their recovery. The McElraths were married 25 years ago and separated last Saturday.

France Still Undecided On Geneva Bid

PARIS, March 19.—The French cabinet today failed to agree on a reply to President Coolidge's second invitation to discuss limitation of naval armaments and the decision was postponed until Tuesday.

When the invitation was received earlier in the week, the cabinet charged Foreign Minister Briand with the task of drafting a reply which was to have been presented to the cabinet today and dispatched to Washington if satisfactory.

SARGENT TAKES STEP TO KEEP COOK IN PRISON

Requests That Execution of Order for Release Be Suspended

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, March 19.—Attorney General Sargent moved today to keep Dr. Frederick A. Cook in jail.

He announced he has requested the U. S. attorney in Fort Worth, Texas, to apply to Federal Judge Wilson for an order suspending execution of the previous order for probationary release of Cook from Leavenworth penitentiary.

Judge Wilson has assured the justice department that he will co-operate to test the interpretation of the probation law by an appeal. Sargent said.

The justice department has taken the position that under the new probation law federal judges are authorized to grant probation only before sentence is started.

Get Report of Missing Airman

BUENOS AIRES, March 19.—An army radio-telegram dispatch received today at Rio de Janeiro said Francisco De Pinedo, missing Italian airman, had left San Luis De Caaceras yesterday in tow of a tug which was to have taken him to Barranco Vermelho.

At Barranco Vermelho the airman, according to the army dispatch, expected to find an open stretch of water about three miles long which would be suitable for a take-off.

In the event De Pinedo could not get his plane off the water at Barranco Vermelho, the dispatch said he planned to continue to Bahal de Guhyera.

Mountain States Buried In Snow

DENVER, Colo., March 19.—Northern and central Rocky Mountain states were buried under snow again today.

Fear that lines of traffic would be tied up was expressed as a blinding snowstorm of blizzard proportions swept down from Montana and left Denver with four inches of snow and lowered temperatures.

Automobiles moved slowly in Denver and all through the night snow sweepers cruised the streets to keep street car tracks open. Many accidents were reported due to the slippery streets.

George Nelson Is Handball Champ

DETROIT, Mich., March 19.—George Nelson, of Baltimore, won the National A. U. handball singles title today when he defeated Frank Burke, San Francisco, 21-9, 21-4 in a final match.

Nelson led throughout the game, holding Burke to the rear of the court where the latter was unable to put across his fast shots.

STORM WRECKS DIRIGIBLE BEING BUILT IN GLENDALE

(By United Press)
GLENDALE, Calif., March 19.—Dreams of a 30-hour trip from Los Angeles to New York were swept away here early today in a high wind storm, which completely wrecked a huge dirigible, under construction for a trans-continental voyage. The loss is $30,000.

The big ship, creation of Thomas B. Slate, Glendale aeronautical engineer, was torn from its mast at the Glendale airport by the force of winds that swept down the San Fernando valley last night and early today.

Slate and 10 assistants fought the gale for several hours, using extra guy wires and cables, but the battle was futile and the big air liner was smashed to earth shortly after midnight.

It was the second time that the ship has collapsed in high winds. Slate announced today that he would begin preparations at once to reconstruct the ship. He left here for Los Angeles to order new material.

TWO TOWNS ARE RAVAGED BY WIND AND FIRE WHEN SECOND TWISTER STRIKES

16 Believed Killed In Green Forest and from 6 to 8 in Denver; Villages Reported Obliterated

WORK OF RESCUE DIFFICULT

(By United Press)
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 19.—Possibility that the death toll in two devastating tornadoes, which swept northern Arkansas during the last 48 hours, would go to more than thirty-five was seen here today with reports of death and destruction continually pouring in.

Communication facilities have been disrupted and it is a virtual impossibility to get any definite figures on the loss of life or property damage in the area.

Denver and Green Forest, Ark., reported the heaviest damage, with 16 believed dead in the latter and from six to eight thought to have been killed in Denver.

Benton was the first to register a death toll. Eleven were killed there Thursday, when the first tornado struck. So far there have been 25 bodies recovered, including the 11 at Benton.

Town Almost Obliterated
Green Forest was almost completely obliterated by the twister. It was reported here, the small village was a mass of debris today, with houses demolished, trees wrenched from the ground and piled high in a twisted mass of branches and furniture scattered from one end of the town to the other.

Fire, whipped by the terrific wind, added further destruction. Homeless victims of the storm huddled in the shelter of protecting cliffs, cold and uncomfortable, awaiting supplies being rushed from central and southern parts of the state.

Rescue workers were having difficulty finding bodies, it was reported to Red Cross headquarters here.

In Denver, the scene was much the same. While it is not known definitely what damage was done there, meager reports said the village was wrecked. Rumors came in that as many as 10 persons had been killed in or near Denver, but these could not be confirmed.

The storm was said to have reached as far as Enid, Okla., where a near tornado ripped through the countryside and caused some property damage. No lives were lost there, however.

Church Blown Down
The 16 reported killed in Green Forest were said to have been in a small church, which was blown down by the high wind. Rescue workers were making their way with difficulty through the debris, searching for other dead and injured.

Communication lines were paralyzed. Surrounding towns, which received word of the storm from eye-witnesses, rushed doctors, nurses and ambulances to Green Forest.

Several houses caught fire and volunteer fighters were experiencing great difficulty in checking the advance of the flames.

Lights were extinguished. Rescue work continued through the early hours of the morning in darkness except for a few lanterns.

A church, which was not struck by the storm, was being used as a temporary hospital this morning.

Thousands were left without shelter in a scouring downpour of rain and hail.

30 KILLED, 75 HURT, SAYS RED CROSS REPORT
ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 19.—Thirty persons were killed, 75 injured and property was damaged to the extent of $300,000 by the tornado that swept Green Forest, Ark., and vicinity last night, according to a message received by the Red Cross here today from P. T. Swett, chairman of the Carroll county chapter of the organization at Eureka, Springs.

Injured are being moved as rapidly as possible to Eureka Springs, the message said. No facilities for medical care are available.

The railroad answered by calling witnesses who testified that the carriers do not shift their responsibility under the plan, that the plan is the best system for the orderly distribution of cars and that cash buyers are not adversely affected by the plan.

Lassen Eruption Was Only Shadow

REDDING, Calif., March 19.—What appeared to be an eruption of Mount Lassen, the United States' only active volcano, was proved today to be nothing but a shadow cast by the sun shining against a sheet of snow blowing around the peak.

From some distances, the appearance was that of a wreath of black smoke coming from the volcano and gave rise to the report that the cone again was active.

Nearly residents said there are such "eruptions" of Mount Lassen whenever there is a high wind. In like manner, Mount Shasta was in "eruption" yesterday, when a gale blew snow all over the town of Mount Shasta, which thus was treated to a snowstorm with the sun shining all the time.

Jugo-Slavia Denies War Reports

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Reports that Jugo-Slavia was preparing for war were denied in an official dispatch from that government, received at the legation here today. The dispatch said: "The government of the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes at Belgrade categorically denies reports published in the Giornale D'Italia of war preparations. No such preparations are being made."

FRESNO GRAPE PLAN HEARING COMES TO END
Commission Examiner Will Consider Testimony in Washington
(By United Press)
FRESNO, March 19.—The fate of the grape car plan inaugurated by the railroads of California, last year, was in the hands of the interstate commerce commission today. The commission's hearing on the complaint of 38 fresh grape growers and shippers that the plan is prejudicial and discriminatory ended here late last night and John L. Rogers, examiner of the commission, plans to leave today for Washington, D. C., where he will consider the testimony and evidence introduced.

FRANK EY WILL RUN FOR CITY COUNCIL PLACE

Frank Ey, veteran of many political battles in Orange county and in Santa Ana, today made official announcement of his candidacy for the city council from the first ward.

City administration is not new to Ey, for he has served the city in this capacity in years gone by, and also was on the city council in Anaheim, many years ago.

"Progress under a conservative policy and efficiency in administration" virtually will be the slogan of the candidate, he stated today.

The public life of Ey is well known to old residents of the city and county. His activities have covered a wide range of civic and public affairs.

In First Ward 34 Years

He was the first elected coroner of Orange county, which position he assumed when he was a resident of Anaheim. He removed from the Mothe Colony to Santa Ana because of his office, and has been a resident of the first ward for 34 years. Prior to coming to Santa Ana, the candidate had served on the city council.

He has been elected to the city council of Santa Ana three times, first for the two-year term of 1901-3, the second for 1903-5 and the third time for the four-year period of 1915-19. He was president of the council in all his terms.

Ey today pointed out that the city hall and the public library were built here while he was serving both as president of the chamber of commerce and the city council.

Inaugurated Rail Excursions

It will be recalled by residents of this community in 1903 that, as president of the chamber of commerce, Ey inaugurated a series of railway excursions from Los Angeles that brought hundreds of easterners to this place on sight-seeing trips. In order to get the excursions, it was necessary for him to make personal financial pledges to protect the railroad companies against possible loss.

Boys played marbles even in the days of the early mound builders.

Man Wanted Here Held In El Paso

Hilge Robert Morse, wanted here on a charge of passing five fictitious checks, will be returned to Santa Ana next week to face trial.

Morse has been arrested in El Paso, Tex., on request of the Orange county sheriff's office, and, according to the district attorney's office, has waived extradition.

Roscoe Knight, deputy sheriff, will leave here late today or tomorrow for El Paso to take charge of the prisoner, Sheriff Jernigan said today.

SPRING FEVER DESCENDS ON STATE SOLONS

SACRAMENTO, March 19.—Spring fever has descended upon the California legislature, and political soothsayers of the capitol declare it is a sure sign that the end is in sight.

Next week, according to all indications, will witness important steps toward adjournment of the 47th session.

First will come the adoption of Governor Young's biennial budget. With the increases adopted in the assembly last week, it will total in the neighborhood of $193,800,000.

As the biennial budget provides the money to operate the state government until next legislative session, that measure looms away and ahead as the most important piece of legislation before the solons.

Important Bills Mark Time

Two other important measures are marking time on the senate calendar until the budget is adopted. These are the bills by Senator Arthur H. Breed, of Oakland, one of which increases the gasoline tax to 3 cents a gallon, the other designating "primary" and "secondary" highways of the state system, and allocating the gasoline tax funds between the two systems.

Agricultural interests are watching the measure by Senator H. C. Jones, of San Jose, which sets up new fruit, nut and vegetable standards for the state.

This measure has been on the senate file for some time, awaiting a few minor amendments from grape and apple growers. Leaders of the farm bloc declare that, once the bill is in shape, it will have easy riding to adoption.

Insurance Hearing Due

Compulsory automobile liability insurance will get its first public hearing in the senate chambers Wednesday evening, before the senate insurance committee.

This bill, introduced by Senator Sanborn Young, of Los Gatos, has attracted the biggest lobby of any measure before the present session. Insurance men from all parts of the state have organized to fight the proposal, which, they insist, is the first step toward putting the state into the insurance business.

The Sharkey barber bill, which provides for a state board of barber examiners, and strict regulation of barbers by licensing and inspection of sanitation methods, was given a "do pass" vote in committee this week, and also is up for final passage in the senate.

Reapportionment according to the "federal plan" was given a favorable report in committee and is now on the second reading file of the lower house.

Important Bills Adopted

Among the important measures adopted during the fourth week of the present session were the following:

Senate:

Creating a "state board of cosmetology" to regulate beauty parors and hair dressers.

Putting the burden of proving citizenship upon an alien, accused of carrying concealed weapons, or who desires to own real estate.

Establishing kindergarten and vocational training in the state schools for the blind.

Requiring supervision of planting fish in California streams by fish and game commission.

Assembly:

Creating a new state department of natural resources.

Authorizing the governor's "cabinet" of department heads.

Increasing the term of assemblymen from two to four years.

Creating a self-governing bar for regulation of California attorneys.

More Companies

REDUCE GAS PRICE

The Shell Oil company, the Union Oil company and the General Petroleum company dropped gasoline prices here today to meet the reduction of 2 cents announced yesterday by the California Petroleum company.

Local managers of the two companies received authority at 11:45 a. m. to make the lower prices effective here.

The Standard and Union Oil companies at that hour still were maintaining retail prices of 18 1-2 cents a gallon, 2 cents higher than the other three companies.

Up to the time of announcement by the Shell and General that reductions had been made, the "Calpet" had played a lone hand here in the price-reducing game.

The "break" by the two companies, it is believed, will be followed later by other companies, although it is said there always is possibility of the gas war being declared off.

GIRLS WRANGLE ON DRESS IDEA AT GRADUATION

Clashing words and heated arguments blazed forth when the senior girls at the Santa Ana polytechnic high school met yesterday afternoon to consider the question of how to dress for graduation. The vote on the issue will be conducted by secret ballot next Tuesday, according to Miss Ruth Rowland, faculty adviser for the girls on the controversial dress problem.

Among the girls, the question has become a most exciting subject, as the opposing sides wrangle back and forth over the suggestions.

A majority vote will decide the question and the class members as a body will abide by the results of the balloting.

Object to Caps and Gowns

The girls may accept pastel shades, while a white sport dress is meeting with wide favor, but adoption of a cap and gown costume is impossible. It is declared. The mere suggestion of caps and gowns was booed by the girls almost before it was made at the meeting yesterday.

Such an item as the color of the shoes that the girls will wear proved tender enough for a heated word battle. When the report of the graduation dress committee was made by Miss Lucille Lowell, chairman, it was recommended that white sport dresses be worn with black shoes and red sweet pea bouquets, observing the school colors of red and white.

Last year, the girls adopted white sport dresses and many favorable comments were expressed about the appearance of the girls, Miss Rowland said.

Trouble Breaks Loose

The meeting was progressing peacefully, but there was a tense moment in the air that was unloosed when Miss Virginia Brannon questioned the advisability of wearing black shoes with white dresses.

Jean Nicholson and other girls supported her stand in favor of white shoes.

The advocates of pastel shades, although they were overruled by those backing the white sport dresses, effected a compromise when they were conceded the right to carry arm corsages in pastel colors instead of the red recommended by the committee.

Miss Esther Bailey voiced the views of the girls who wanted the class to adopt pastel shades.

For baccalaureate exercises, the girls decided to wear sport dresses, sport hats with coral and white to match. The same dress will be worn for the class day exercises.

It was favored by the majority of the girls. The real controversy is over commencement dress.

Stops Publication

MONROVIA, March 19.—Suspension of The Daily Messenger, third afternoon newspaper published in this city, has been announced.

"For the past several months The Messenger has failed to pay expenses of publication and the publishers do not see any reason why they should continue to issue it at a loss," was the statement made by the Broxon Publishing company in the Messenger's final issue yesterday.

Suspension of The Messenger leaves two afternoon daily newspapers in Monrovia. The Daily News is published by C. C. Howard, and The Post, by the Kellogg newspapers.

Frenchmen Victors

In Tennis Tourney

BROOKLYN, N. Y., March 19.—Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, of France, today won the international indoor tennis tournament from players of the Heights Casino, Brooklyn, by taking the doubles match from Watson Washburn and Dean Mather, 2-6, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3.

The French players won two singles matches yesterday and will play two more tomorrow. Three out of five matches determined victory.

Slayer of Prison

Guard In Escape

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 19.—Roy Wilson, 24, serving a life sentence for the sensational murder of Capt. Pat Newsome, convict guard, escaped from the state prison farm here today.

Wilson leaped to the back of a horse in the prison yard and rode away.

The horse later was abandoned and it is believed Wilson was aided by accomplices in an automobile.

3 MEMBERS OF BAD CHECK GANG ARE SENTENCED

R. F. Herzog, John F. Beebe and Fred Bailey, members of a check-kiting gang that was nipped by the Santa Ana police several weeks ago, after floating checks aggregating hundreds of dollars in Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton and various Los Angeles county cities, failed to win leniency in court late yesterday.

Their pleas for probation were denied in each case. Herzog, Glendale business man and "brains" of the gang, was sentenced by Superior Judge E. J. Marks to serve a term of from one to 14 years in San Quentin.

Herzog, according to his own confession, had directed operations of the gang and used Beebe and Bailey as his tools. They cashed checks and turned the proceeds over to him.

In Judge James L. Allen's court, Beebe drew a sentence identical with that of Herzog. Bailey, who is 20 years old, was sent to the Preston school of industry, at Lone, to remain until he reaches 21, next September 23, when he is to return to the court for further disposition of his case.

Beebe and Bailey were arrested in Santa Ana. Herzog's hat being found in their automobile. This led to Herzog's capture at Glendale. In possession of the gang were found, police said, a sheaf of bogus checks representing thousands of dollars.

Police News

Wanted here on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Daniel Garcia, 22, Redlands, was arrested in Redlands yesterday afternoon by L. A. Warren, probation officer, and Joe Irvine, deputy sheriff. The man was brought to Santa Ana and placed in jail.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Phillips are now entertaining eastern guests in their home, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howland having arrived yesterday from Troy, N. Y., to remain two or three weeks. They are enthusiastic over California, preferring it to Florida where they spent last winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herbert, of North Adams, Mass., who have been visiting for several weeks in Southern California, the last two of which were spent here with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Phillips, 413 Cypress avenue, have started on their return journey to Massachusetts. Mr. Herbert is a prominent vocalist and musician in his home city, belonging to the organizations which also used to claim Maurice Phillips, well known Santa Ana soloist. He was so pleased with Santa Ana that he and Mrs. Herbert plan to take a house here on their return next fall, and make this city their winter quarters.

Dr. E. M. Mills, venerable rose enthusiast, of 2429 Polaris avenue, who has been seriously ill, is now able to be in his rose garden for a period daily and to take short drives. Mrs. Mills is planning to leave March 23 for a trip to Cincinnati, O., where she will attend the meeting of the national board of trustees of the Methodist church. En route east Mrs. Mills will visit children's orphanages under the supervision of the Methodist church at York, Neb., and Polo, Ill. She is in charge of the finances of these institutions and also one at New Orleans, La., where she will visit on her return trip. She will be away three weeks and during her absence Dr. Mills will be in Los Angeles with his brother, Charles N. Mills.

Evangelist T. C. Newby will speak at Berean hall, corner Fruit and Minter streets, Saturday and Sunday nights at 7:30 o'clock. He will be assisted by a group of young people from the Hermosa gospel tabernacle.

PHILIP GOODWIN, CONDEMNED TO HANG, TAKES REVENGE AND BLAMES GAINES FOR MURDER

Phil Goodwin, sent to the gallows by his friend, yesterday took his revenge.

Breaking a silence that he had maintained throughout his own trial and afterwards, according to his story, the actor-priest denounced his one-time "pal," Albert Dewey Gaines, as the confessed murderer of Joseph J. Patterson.

The Rev. Mr. Goodwin, brought here from San Quentin to testify against Gaines, declared that his co-defendant had, while both were in county jail, admitted to him details of the Patterson murder, and sworn to save the priest from the noose at any cost.

The appearance of the condemned priest in court held all of the thrill expected of it. And the priest himself provided even more sensation than was expected of him. It had been hinted that would steer a safe and cautious course, probably answering questions only regarding Patterson's checks, stock certificates and other documents which the prosecution claims were forged, and which provide the murder motive.

Hurls Accusation at Gaines
But, as he sat on the stand, the magnet that drew an electric current through the hushed courtroom, where a throng, mostly women and girls, had waited patiently since early morning to see him, Father Goodwin loosed his tongue and hurled the positive accusation of guilt fairly into the strained face of his estranged "buddy."

The rumored caution was thrown to the winds. It was a bold and daring stroke, observers agreed; one calculated to save Goodwin from the death sentence, which upon him, as well as to blast the props from beneath the Gaines defense.

It was a new chapter in the series of maneuvers by which the two accused men have, since their arrest, attempted to unsholder the burden of guilt, each upon the other.

Outwardly unaware of the baleful glare that Gaines shot at him across the short space between them, the actor-priest appeared to sense the charged atmosphere. The dramatist, the actor in him, responded to it. Cool and poised, as at his own trial, his even measured tones stabbed the vast silence of the room. Word by word, phrase by phrase, he pasted Gaines a moral coward, who had confessed guilt, promised to protect his friend, and then had tried to sacrifice that friend's life to save his own.

Crowds Gasps in Surprise
The watching throng gasped at the surprising turn of events. They saw Gaines lean forward in his seat, as though he would transfuse the priest with his gaze, or was himself hypnotized. They saw a small, brown-clad woman on a front-row seat—Goodwin's mother, from Canada—watching her son with her soul in her eyes. Her gaze, too, never wavered, except to dart an occasional swift glance at Gaines, whose face seemed to mask a cold fury. The defendant's attorneys, O. A. Jacobs and George Halverson, sat beside him, silent and grave of face. At the moment, they did not show that they were already mentally marshalling the defenses that they will call upon to checkmate the priest's charge.

Under the practiced hand of Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodgett, Goodwin's blackening accusations were drawn forth. First he admitted, frankly, that he had been connected with various check and oil stock transactions just before and just after Patterson's death, but claimed that he had been handling these affairs for Gaines, not knowing that anything was wrong. Then he told of two alleged conversations with his "pal" in the county jail, one occurring before the Goodwin trial, and another after Goodwin had been sentenced to hang. Gaines, he said, had made his confession of guilt then, had wept at Goodwin's kindness to him, and had vowed that the priest should not die on the gallows.

Crowd Jams Courtroom
The Rev. Mr. Goodwin came to the stand shortly after the opening of the afternoon session. The crowd that had jammed every available inch of space in the courtroom since 9 a. m., was finally rewarded when District Attorney Z. B. West Jr. asked Judge Allen for permission to withdraw Milton Carlson, handwriting expert, and place Goodwin on the stand. Immediately there was a little gasp of anticipation as the feminine spectators drew breath together. Sheriff Sam Jernigan ushered Goodwin into the court through a private corridor a minute later. The same in appearance and dress as when he appeared at his own trial, the priest walked calmly to the stand, was sworn, and took his seat. There he seemed momentarily to lose his poise. At the district attorney's suggestion he stepped to the counsel table and drank a glass of water. He recovered himself almost immediately and was ready to proceed.

Testifies Voluntarily
At Blodgett's question, he stated that he was represented by Attorneys Vincent Surr and Kitt Gould and that they were in the courtroom. He said that he was testifying voluntarily, knowing that he could refuse to take the stand if he so desired.
First he dealt with the "Samuel Reader" check for $130, forged against Patterson's bank account just before the murder. He said that Gaines had handed him that check and that he had deposited it for Gaines in an account under the name of Samuel Reader. Subsequently he drew various checks on that account for Gaines, he said.

The Julian oil stock that belonged to Patterson, which Goodwin said he had sold through brokers, after Patterson's disappearance, also was handed him by Patterson, said the witness. He detailed circumstances which he said caused him to sell the stock for Gaines. Primarily, he said, there was need of $250 as ball for a friend who had been arrested.

He had telephoned Gaines asking permission to pledge the stock, which he knew Gaines possessed, as security for the bail loan. Gaines told him to sell the stock, which he did obtaining a check for $250 and other check of $1699, he said.

Details Check Transaction

Gaines, the priest testified, had agreed to lend him $1500 to finance a play which the priest was writing. Then Gaines had invested the money in the stock, according to what he had told Goodwin. Goodwin had protested, but Gaines made the investment and later showed him the stock, he said. So, when the stock was sold, Goodwin said he deposited the proceeds to his own account, since Gaines had intended lending him the money. He then drew a check for $299 for Gaines, he said, leaving a balance of $1400 from the $1699 check, on deposit. The $250 check had been posted as bail. Other smaller checks were subsequently cashed for Gaines, he said, and eventually Goodwin drew $1000 from the bank. Of this sum, he said, approximately half went to Gaines. He and Gaines had quarreled mildly over the money, Goodwin said. He stated that he had called Gaines an "Indian giver" because the promise to lend $1500 had been violated.

At this point in his testimony, the priest sprang his surprise. He told of two asserted talks with Gaines in the jail. The first, he said, took place in felony tank No. 2, where he and Gaines met.

Testifies Gaines Wept

"I acknowledged receipt of notes from Gaines—and their contents, and we shook hands," said Goodwin. "Gaines cried. 'You've been very, very foolish, Abe, I told him but I don't hold it against you. You did what nine out of every 10 men would have done in your place. Don't worry, I'll never lie against you, even though you have lied and you know it. That's all we said at that time.'"

The next conversation between the two was in a corridor of the jail, said Goodwin. The priest had, in the interval, been tried and convicted of the Patterson murder, and was under sentence to hang. Gaines, he said, seemed deeply affected when they met. According to Goodwin, Gaines said:

"P. A., I've been just one damn skunk. You have been awfully white and I'll not forget it."

"I said to him, 'Abe, why did you do it? Why didn't you come clean?' He told me that, after he had been arrested, he was told that the handwriting experts all claimed that Goodwin had committed the forgery, and knowing that he had done the forging himself, he didn't think I could be convicted. So he had kept still. And they also told him, he said, that if he would help convict me, it would go easy with him."

"Dead When Fire Commenced"
Then I said, 'How about it, Abe? Did you really take Patterson out and burn him alive?' He answered, 'No, P. A., he was dead when the fire commenced.' 'How do you know?' I asked him. 'He had been stiff for several hours. But I hit him on the head several times to make sure,' he told me.

"He told me that he had hit Patterson with a piece of fence post he had picked up along the road. I then asked him why he hadn't confided in me, because I would have done everything humanly possible to help him. He said he hadn't told me, because he wanted to use me to handle the checks and stock for him and he knew I wouldn't do it if I knew they were forgeries."

"Then I said: 'Well, Abe, it's too late to help me now, but I advise you to do one of two things. Either come clean and tell the truth and throw yourself on the mercy of the court—or else keep your mouth shut until your trial.'"

"Gaines took both my hands in his—he was crying—and said: 'P. A., you've been so damnably white I want you to know, when you go to San Quentin, that I'll not let you hang, no matter what happens,' the priest concluded.

Cross-examination of the priest, which was forced to wait until Monday, as court adjourned today with great interest. The defense. It was expected, would make a desperate effort to break the priest's testimony, besides preparing its own counter-attack.

PASTOR DIES AT GRAVE
GLASGOW, March 19—As Rev. James M. Crawford concluded a funeral service, he dropped dead beside the grave.

S. A. BAPTISTS AT HUGE RALLY IN LOS ANGELES

Dr. Otto S. Russell, president of the Southern California Baptist convention, and pastor of the First Baptist church here, was the presiding officer yesterday for the all-day rally, held in the Temple Baptist church, Los Angeles, by all the churches of the Southern California Baptist convention.

In the evening, the huge auditorium was packed to capacity. One of the features of the evening program was the presence of Dr. James Whitcomb Brouwer, former pastor of the Temple Baptist church and one of the most prominent Baptist ministers in the country. He now is president of the Northern California Baptist convention, and has a pastorate in Oakland. His topic was "A Square Deal for Everyone."

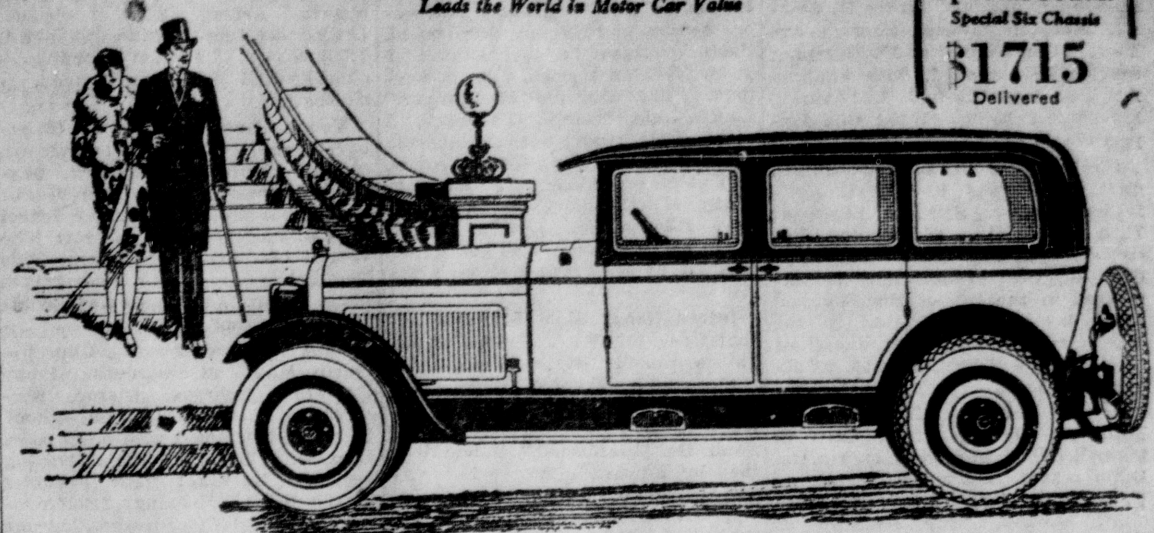

Other prominent speakers were the Rev. W. H. Bowler, D. D., of New York, executive secretary of the board of missionary co-operation, the Rev. Otto S. Russell, the Rev. W. D. Harper, D. D., executive secretary of the southern convention, the Rev. M. E. Dodd, pastor of Temple Baptist church, and Dr. James A. Francis, pastor of the First Baptist church, Los Angeles. Santa Ana sent a large delegation, including Dr. and Mrs. William Ashmore Jr., Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Greene, Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams, Mrs. M. M. Holmes, Mrs. Margaret Hardin, Mrs. J. W. Law, Miss Lulu Minter, Miss Gertrude Minor and Miss Emily Cox. Dr. William Ashmore, who, with Mrs. Ashmore, spent 40 years as a missionary in China, and who translated the Bible from English into Chinese, was seated on the platform and answered many questions. Dr. Greene, who now resides in Santa Ana, was for many years head of the William Jewell college, Liberty, Mo.

NASH

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

NEW Special Sedan Special Six Chassis $1715 Delivered

The Nation's New Vogue in Body Design Styled by Nash

It is emphatically apparent today that Nash has created a new era in American enclosed body artistry with this arrestingly distinctive body design.

With its new symmetry of line, its classically beautiful French-type rear contour and French roof design, and its rich ensemble of costly car features, the new Special Sedan pictured above possesses magnetic appeal for those most keenly perceptive of motor car style and quality.

The steering wheel is of real walnut in fitting harmony with the handsome walnut finish of the inside window mouldings, door panels, the instrument board and the crowned panel which is above the instrument board. The gray toned upholstery is genuine Chase

Velmo Mohair Velvet, deeply tufted.

And Nash powers it with a 7-bearing motor—the world's smoothest type.

So that in transcendent power-economy and quietness, in lightning-fast "pick-up," and in easeful roadability on the straightaway or climbing, together with a world of speed, it stands out as the most notable car of its field.

As standard equipment there are Gabriel Snubbers at front; 4-wheel brakes, of special Nash design, with the front wheel brakes completely enclosed for safety's sake; and 5 disc wheels.

A larger Special Sedan on the Advanced Six Chassis, reflecting the same unsurpassed quality throughout, is also offered at a favorably low price.

Vernal Appointments At St. Patrick Bridge Tea

A St. Patrick bridge tea was the pleasant form which Mrs. E. C. D. Pettitt's hospitality took Thursday afternoon, when a group of friends found cordial welcome at her home on Heliotrop Drive. Many spring flowers blended with the prevailing green of her decorative scheme, which also found expression in the artistic cards which denoted places at the bridge tables, and served as score cards.

Mrs. Pettitt had selected green tissues and ribbons also, to wrap the desirable trophies, the first of which was secured by Dr. Mabel Vance Tremaine, while consolation was presented to Mrs. C. M. McCann. A special prize was given to her whose tally card bore the tiny figures, 17, commemorating the date, and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh was the fortunate holder.

After the prize award, the card tables were soon converted into individual tables, beautifully appointed with linens, crystal and silver, and daintily cool in green and white. In serving the appetizing tea menu, Mrs. Pettitt had the assistance of Mrs. Norris P. Hilton and Mrs. William H. Haddon. Enjoying the hospitality of hostess and home, were Mrs. Ralph Mosher, Mrs. B. J. McMullen, Mrs. Charles Swanner, Mrs. Roland O. Veagle, Dr. Mabel Vance Tremaine, Mrs. C. M. McCann, Mrs. Dexter Ball, Mrs. E. L. Crawford, Mrs. Norris P. Hilton, Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, Mrs. Fred Chapman, Mrs. Joseph H. Metzger, Mrs. D. K. Hammond, Mrs. R. O. Winckler, Mrs. W. B. Williams, Mrs. W. H. Haddon, Mrs. James L. Allen, and three of the winter guests at St. Ann's Inn, Mrs. Borgmeyer, (Mrs. W. H. Haddon's sister), Mrs. Carson and Mrs. Dewey of Brooklyn, New York.

Y. W. C. A. Club Holds Anniversary Party

Describing the many interesting details connected with business girls' clubs of the International Y. W. C. A., Miss Rhoda Foster, national travel secretary of the Y. W. C. A., business girls' clubs, spoke last night before members of the Weymouth Macdonald club gathered at the Ebbl clubhouse to celebrate the first anniversary of the club's founding.

In honor of the occasion members of Ebbl's second household economics section, under the direction of Mrs. A. G. Flagg, had decorated the dining room with quantities of aralia, lilies and ranunculus. Centering the tables, which had been arranged in the shape of a triangle, was a huge basket of lilies and aralia.

Miss Henrietta Lykke was toastmistress for the evening. Her toasts were responded to by Miss Daisy Anderson, Miss Gertrude Franklin and Miss Dorothy Thurston. Solo, Mrs. Seiler sang several songs. Miss Helen McPeak played a violin solo. Mrs. F. C. Pone gave a reading, and the Scheffer sisters sang two duets.

Coming as a surprise at the end of the evening was the huge birthday cake, graced with one candle, which was given to the club by the Ebbl members who served the dinner.

Piano Recital

The Earl Fraser studio was rendezvous for a large group that taxed its capacity Wednesday evening, when Minnie Phillips Heard presented a group of young people in recital.

Solo, duo, trio and quartet numbers were on the program, and each young performer played from memory, adding greatly to the interest of the evening. "Away to the Woods" was a trio by Elizabeth Marston, Eliza Mae Hovsle and Katherine Cook. A two-piano number was "Rose Garden" played by Patricia McClure and Louise Markwalder, while a two-piano number presented by four young musicians, was "La Capricieuse," with Helen Evans, Helen Hamilton, Elizabeth Lehnhardt and Juanita Decker. Each of these young girls gave solo numbers as well, while others on the program were Glen Layton, Muriel Philbrook, Leola Schroeder, Hueh Nelbros, Justine Krook, Ruth Greenwald, Charlotte Mock, Phyllis Krook, William Lowe, Flora Park, Helen Lowe, Barbara Allen, Muriel Bubi, Elizabeth Donnie, Esther Vogt, Catherine Jessup, Thelma Glasscock and Vivian Smith Harmon.

Bridge Club

One of the week's pretty affairs was the meeting yesterday afternoon of Santa Ana Chapter, O. E. S. Bridge club, when Mrs. William Sylvester as hostess, gave a springlike effect to her home at 1228 West Santa Clara avenue, by the use of many flowers in wide variety of color.

Six tables were required for the players, of whom Mrs. A. W. Getchell was most skillful and won the pretty crystal and silver jelly dish offered as first prize. Mrs. H. G. Lycan received second prize of a pair of silk handkerchiefs, and a bath set of towel and wash cloth consoling Mrs. Amanda Holmes.

Mrs. Getchell was especially congratulated for her good fortune, which had been in evidence the previous evening when she won the handsome cedar hope chest offered at the White Shrine.

At the close of the games, Mrs. Sylvester placed pretty dainties on her card tables, centering each with a quaint candlestick formed from Irish potatoes converted into "Paddy's pigs," bearing three green tapers each, and served date pudding topped with whipped cream, wafers, coffee and candy.

Wedding Announcement Is Received with Much Surprise

An undercurrent of excitement was noticeable among the guests at a delightful dinner party which Mrs. Sue Smith of 1521 Durant street, presented last night in the small room at Kerner's, for the guests, knowing that Miss Helen Smith, daughter of the hostess, was honored, anticipated the announcement of her betrothal to Thomas L. Renfro of Long Beach, formerly of Texas.

But they found themselves mistaken as the evening advanced to the point where they were instructed to draw in the pink and green ribbons that led from rosebud place cards to the roses of the centerpiece, for the pretty story told by the rosebuds was "Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Renfro, Visalia, January 27, 1927."

After the surprise had subsided, the guests all agreed that it was a delightful way to tell the news. For the pink posies to which the ribbons led, and which contained the dainty announcement cards, were massed around one enormous rose which centered the table, and established the decorative motif continued by rosebud petals nut cups fashioned by Miss Lizette Phillips, one of the bride's closest friends.

Since young Mrs. Renfro had no need of a card telling her her own secret, her wee rosebud brought other gifts, the pretty engagement ring, and its accompanying wedding ring which she may wear now that the secret's out.

Mrs. Smith presented her bride-daughter with an autograph recipe book, and the guests took turn in writing their choicest recipes for her. Represented in it will be Mrs. Smith the hostess, Mrs. Dick Kuykendall, Mrs. C. A. Nordstrom, Miss Helen Young, Miss Lucille Bales, Miss Margaret Huthins, Miss Lizette Phillips, Miss Sara Hales, Miss Marie Carothers of Costa Mesa, Miss Murrell Knox and Miss Betty Smith, younger sister of the honoree.

The young people were all close associates in high school, where Miss Smith (now Mrs. Renfro) graduated in 1926. She has been at junior college this year. She and her husband will make their home in Long Beach, whither Mr. Renfro's company, the California National Oil Supply company, recently transferred him from Bakersfield.

Friendly Gathering At St. Ann's Inn

There was no jangling telephone bell or flashing signal light to interrupt the group of telephone employees gathered Thursday for luncheon at St. Ann's Inn as a St. Patrick day celebration, so the friendliness of the gathering was unalloyed.

Tables were picturesque in their green and white, and a great bowl of maidenhair fern was an attractive centerpiece. Place cards, nut cups and other decorative details reflected the same cool color. Special representatives and chief operators from other Southern California districts were present to enjoy the day with Mrs. Lavina McIntosh, chief representative; Miss Hazel Ienbers, evening chief operator, and Miss Winifred Faris, chief operator of Santa Ana, and included Mrs. Lucy Goodrich, representative, and Miss Beattie Sabage, chief clerk in the district office. Natives: Mrs. Velda Brendle, Garden Grove representative; Miss Blanche Simkins, Pomona representative; Mrs. Edna Schaffer, Anaheim representative; Mrs. Winifred Crabbe, Brea representative; Mrs. Helen Harges, San Bernardino representative, and Miss Norma Bristol, Ontario representative.

Household Economics

Ebbl's third section of household economics met yesterday afternoon for a pleasant session in the home of D. F. Cook, 314 South Broadway, with Mrs. Cook, Mrs. E. T. Battey and Mrs. Stella Menges as hostesses.

Upon arrival, the twenty members were given clippings pertaining to St. Patrick and his Irish brothers, and at roll call the members were read. The afternoon was given over to two interesting study themes, "Menus for Special Occasions" and "A Well-Balanced Meal," and the first subject was discussed in enlightening fashion by Mrs. Battey.

Many excellent suggestions were also given by Mrs. Menges in her paper on the "Well-Balanced Meal" and in every way, the members felt the program to be both helpful and interesting.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to planning for the section's part in the Ebbl spring market, April 21 and 22, and in enjoying a social chat over the tea cups as the hostess trio served refreshments whose touches of St. Patrick green combined artistically with the wealth of spring flowers used to adorn the home.

HELPS A PAINFUL ACHING BACK

Lumbago and a stiff aching back suggest at once the need of a good diuretic to stimulate kidney secretions and rid the system of troublesome poisons that cause the distressing aches. Mrs. Black of Petersburg, Va., says: "Before I took Foley Pills diuretic, I could not stoop nor raise up without great pain. Now since taking them I have none." Ask for Foley Pills diuretic. A prompt improvement will amply repay you. Satisfaction guaranteed. Parsons Drug Co., Fourth and Bush Sts.—Adv.

Irish Green Is Used In Decorations of Birthday Party

Since St. Patrick and R. A. Fahlstadt so nearly shared the same birthday date, Mrs. Fahlstadt complimented Ireland's patron saint in decorative effects, and the head of her household in other details, of a delightful little surprise bridge party which she gave last night at her home, 1326 North Garnsey street.

The triple green leaves of the shamrock were to be seen throughout the home and in all the appointments such as tally cards and bridge table markers, while a wealth of spring flowers and many mountain blossoms, added charm to the cozy home.

Arrival of the guests and the consequent congratulations and good wishes offered the host, gave way to bridge, and at close of the friendly contest, the young matron offered attractive prizes which she had chosen with a view to their appropriateness to the date. Both Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Herick proved their skill as bridge players each securing a trophy, while consolation gifts were awarded Mrs. Charles Crawford and George Ross.

After the tables had served their purpose for bridge, Mrs. Fahlstadt arranged them with some of her pretty linens for serving refreshments centering around the delicious angelfood bird-cake. To continue the St. Patrick motif, loaves were molded in the form of Irishmen's heads. Mr. Fahlstadt and Mrs. Gordon Drew of Fullerton, (a sister of the hostess), aided in serving.

Sharing the pleasant affair and offering birthday wishes to the host, were Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Herick, Mr. and Mrs. Burli Wing, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Drew of Fullerton, Miss Rhea McDow, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crawford and George Ross.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

An enjoyable St. Patrick tea was given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lewis Bachman, 946 West Chestnut street, where Aid society members of the First Christian church were guests and all contributed towards a fund for an old ladies' home.

The home was a most attractive setting for the affair, with shamrock garlands swayed from shamrocks above each window and a tall vase of purple iris graced the living room. In the dining-room, the effect was enhanced by amusing little Irish pigs romping over the snowy linen of the table. Fruit salad, tea and great branches of green and white were artistically arranged. All of the other appointments were in keeping with the feast day of the good old saint.

The evening was passed with bridge and 500, fifteen tables being occupied, and when the series was over, handsome prizes were awarded to Mrs. E. B. Collier, Miss Barbara Klatt, R. H. Sandon and Dr. O. S. Kaps for bridge and Miss Clara Biesener, Mrs. Anna Tinschlag, James Altos and Charles E. Borchard for 500.

An angel food cake with Irish trimmings was captured by Miss Rose Colombini and Joseph Gaetz excited the envy of the women present by carrying away the beautiful Spanish shawl. The capable committee, composed of Mrs. U. J. Engelmann, chairman, Mrs. Harry Gasper and Mrs. Harry Edwards, served individual St. Patrick salads, hot rolls, coffee and cake, and had the satisfaction of obtaining a goodly sum for the treasury of the society, besides giving an evening of unalloyed pleasure to their guests.

Society Honors Leader
Mrs. Ada F. Thompson who has been president of the Missionary society of the Reformed Presbyterian church for the past two years, had a happy surprise last Wednesday evening after the mid-week service. She had called special meeting of the society to discuss some special business closing the year's work. When this was finished she was ushered back into the prayer meeting room, where all had been changed by the young people into a home-like parlor.

Here different members of the society, expressed their appreciation of the work done by Mrs. Thompson during her period of leadership, all wishing her a happy journey as she plans to leave next Tuesday for a visit with her children in the east. She expects to visit in Nebraska, Iowa and Florida, closing the trip at Winona Lake where the Annual Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church meets this year. The surprise hour closed with refreshments served by a special committee on entertainment.

Even today there are said to be more than three million persons held in slavery.

Teacher Group Shares Happy Home Evening With Young Pupil

The pleasant relations between school and home were exemplified by a delightful little dinner party given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Boyle, 1235 South Main street, at which the guests were the class teachers at Julia Lathrop junior high school, of the young daughter of the home, Miss Sarah Boyle.

Yellow and green were combined effectively in flowers gracing the dinner table, and place cards were of St. Patrick design. Place of honor at the table was given the young hostess-honoree, Miss Sarah, and covers were also laid for Mr. and Mrs. Boyle, Miss Hazel Thrasher, Miss Elizabeth Bruner, Miss Nora Reid, Miss Bernice Hart, Miss Frances Jones and Miss Edith C. Flavan of the teacher group, and Mrs. W. F. Kistinger, who aided Mrs. Boyle in her pleasant hostess duties.

Card tables were produced in the after-dinner interval, and bridge claimed the attention of the guests for the remainder of the evening. The attractive trophy offered, was secured by Miss Hazel Thrasher.

Thimble Club Member Is Complimented On Birthday

"Thimble club" members were entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Edwin A. Baird, in her home at 1301 Cypress avenue, where varied-thimble sweet past and ranunculus former a spring-like background for the guests as they engaged in the needlework which gives their club its name.

As the afternoon waned, Mrs. Baird served a daintily arranged tea menu with a green and white color scheme as a tribute to St. Patrick's day. With the second course was offered a beautiful angelfood cake which flaunted flags of Erin instead of the proverbial candles, but was nevertheless a birthday cake complimenting Miss Anne Robertson. The honoree made a pretty ceremony of cutting the first slice of the confection, which was served with molded fruit salad and coffee.

The final pleasant features offered a contest in which the guests essayed to picture St. Patrick himself, and the reading of witty telegrams composed by those present.

Mrs. Baird's guests included Miss Anne Robertson, Mrs. Allen Mandy, Mrs. Frank Brigante, Mrs. Max Holmes, Mrs. Joseph Rohan, Mrs. Charles Rye, Mrs. Arthur Trawick, Mrs. Roland Dye, Mrs. Robert Weston, Mrs. Tom Geisler.

Mrs. Platt Presents Seasonal Luncheon

Mrs. Herbert F. Platt of 102 East Ninth street entertained a coterie of her friends at a very charming St. Patrick's luncheon last Wednesday. Ranunculus in vivid colors centered the prettily appointed table, where the guests found their places by means of shamrock name cards.

Three courses were served and Mrs. Platt found ways to use a dainty green tint in various of the viands, the salad being especially pretty. Covers were placed for Mesdames Asa Vandermaas, Murray Vandermaas, Emma Lyday, W. N. Prince, J. J. Jacobs, Miss Pauline Parsons, and the hostess and following luncheon the afternoon hours were whiled away with social chat.

Mrs. W. E. Hammond Wins the First Prize

We were interested to know just what the public knew about their leading milk producing and distributing company. The contests we have been running have been the source of much satisfaction. But among the hosts of replies, few showed a very certain knowledge of the facts. Many stated that $15,000 was the cost of the creamery plant. 20 times that much is nearer the figure.

THIS IS THE LIST OF WINNERS
100,000	MRS. W. E. HAMMOND, 1141 South Flower.....$15.00
51	These five divide the second prize—
$15,000	MRS. HARRY WESTOVER, 1527 East Fourth.....$1.00
450	MRS. JOE BECK, 339 West Eighteenth.....$1.00
85	MRS. B. L. BARNETT, 1221 South Main.....$1.00
800	ELIZABETH SINGLETON, 946 West Camille.....$1.00
	MRS. C. G. McMEIKIN, 931 West Camille.....$1.00

The correct answers to all of the numbers is as follows:
100,000 is the smallest bacteria count the state allows in unpasteurized milk. Our fresh milk has so few in comparison that the state is very liberal.

51 is the number of trucks in operation. The Excelsior Cream Line covers the entire county.

$15,000 is the approximate monthly payroll at the Santa Ana plant. That does not include ranch or branch payrolls.

450 is the number of T-B tested cows that WE OWN OUTRIGHT in our herds, and which we are now milking.

85 Average number of people on the payroll here at the Santa Ana plant.

800 is the 8-hour capacity of gallons of Ice Cream.

It is clearly evident that few know the size and importance of one of Orange county's largest and most important economic concerns. We'd like to have more visitors call.

HOUSE PASSES BILLS OFFERED BY S. A. SOLON

Assembly bills Nos. 113, 287 and 289, introduced in the assembly by Dr. C. D. Ball, were passed by the assembly yesterday. All of the bills pertain to salaries and increases in the number of deputies in some of the county offices and for some appointive offices. If the bills are adopted by the senate, they will become effective 90 days after adjournment of the legislature, making the probable effective date August 1.

Salary increases for deputies will be effective on the operative date of the measure, but elective officers will not share in advances during their term of office.

Bill No. 113 deals with all of the elective offices and Nos. 287 and 289 apply to appointive offices. No. 287 increases the salary of the county librarian by $300 a year, the raise being from $1800 to $2100. The board of supervisors has authority to appoint assistants in the librarian's office and to name the salaries.

No. 289 establishes the salary of the probation officer at $250 a month, the chief deputy at $200, one assistant at $150 and another at $100, the number of assistants being increased by one.

All of the increases are in accordance with recommendations made by the 1924 grand jury.

PROPOSE BUREAU LUNCHEON CLUB

The opinion of members of the Orange County Farm Bureau and prominent business men on the proposed formation of a Farm Bureau Luncheon Club, to meet once a month, is asked by Secretary A. M. Stanley in letters sent out today.

"It has been suggested that a number of business men in Santa Ana, who are members of the farm bureau, be called together once a month for the purpose of getting contact and for the purpose of discussing agricultural problems," Stanley said.

"The exchange of ideas would undoubtedly result in mutual benefit and it would be possible to affiliate this proposed agricultural club with the county, state and national farm bureau organizations, thus broadening the scope of influence."

Stanley said the farm bureau hesitated to take the first steps toward the organization of the club because of the fact that there are so many clubs already functioning in the city.

Booth Will Speak To Y. Bible Class

Dr. Henry Kendall Booth, pastor of the First Congregational church, Long Beach, and widely known throughout the Southland's religious and social welfare circles, will address the Y. M. C. A. Men's Bible class, next Thursday evening, at the association building, according to T. J. Hunter, chairman of the committee on religious work.

Dr. Booth is to be in Santa Ana Thursday evening, to speak at the Congregational church Lenten service, and he has consented to speak to the Bible class at its 6:15 meeting, prior to the church service.

His theme will be "Respectable Sinners," which is another presentation of the general subject of practical Christianity, being followed by the class.

Caddy Is Held as Robbery Suspect

Sheriff's officers are holding Frank Carlin, 28, a caddy, in jail here on suspicion of burglary, in connection with the robbery of several Orange county golf and country clubs in the last several weeks, it was announced today.

Carlin, who is a Lithuanian, denies knowledge of the burglaries. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Harry Carter.

Phone Company's Budget Announced

The Southern California Telephone company's budget for gross expenditures in 1927 has been set at $9,600,000 this to be spent for plant extensions in Los Angeles. It is estimated that at least 150,000 telephones will be connected in 1927 and approximately 111,000 will be disconnected, making a net gain of at least 25,000. This means that Los Angeles will increase at a rate of 100,000 people this year and will have 335,000 telephones by the end of 1927.

Theater Man Is To Play Fiddle For Bible Class

Bobby Wolf, master of ceremonies at the West Coast-Walker theater, will furnish the entertainment before the Men's Community Bible class, at its regular Sunday morning meeting in the theater. It was announced today.

Wolf is a violinist of ability and is scheduled to play several selections.

A. J. Garraway, choir singer and well known Santa Ana baritone, also will render several numbers. It was announced.

The Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, who is the class teacher, will give his usual 20-minute address before the class.

SPEED FINES IN ONE DAY REACH TOTAL OF $870

Fines totaling $870 were collected in Justice John Landell's court, at San Juan Capistrano, yesterday, in the heaviest "traffic day" the court has had in several months.

Most of the motorists in court yesterday were arrested by state traffic officers last Saturday and Sunday nights, as they were going to and from the races at Tia Juana.

Among those who added to the fund was Jack Mabey, Santa Ana automobile man, who paid a fine of $100, after pleading guilty to speeding 65 miles an hour over the San Diego highway near El Toro.

Mabey was arrested by Officer Ernie Sawyer.

Joe Torillo, 26, who said he was a movie actor from Hollywood, was given a fine of $75 on a charge of speeding 55 miles an hour. Unable to pay the fine, he was brought to the county jail, where he will spend one day for every $3 of the fine, on the court's order.

Court Notes

Wife Asks Divorce
Her husband was lazy and would not take jobs that were offered him, so she, with the aid of her daughters, was compelled to support the family, Mrs. Gertrude J. Binscham charged today in a divorce suit filed in superior court against Fred W. Binscham. Attorney R. E. Haynes, of Fullerton, represents the plaintiff. The Binschams were married in Iowa, in 1900, and have two grown children. They separated last January 15.

Appeals From Judgment
An appeal by C. E. Evans, of Fullerton, from a judgment allowed against him in Fullerton justice court, was on file today in superior court. The suit was that brought by the Ganahl-Grim Lumber company, of Anaheim, which asked judgment of $113.24 on an account against Evans. Justice Halvey J. Spence, of Fullerton, granted the claim on February 24. The defense appealed through Attorney William L. Waters, of Fullerton, William J. M. Heinz, of Anaheim, is attorney for the lumber company.

Sue to Foreclose Mortgage
Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McKeeth, of Santa Ana, are plaintiffs in a superior court action just filed against Mr. and Mrs. Roy Silkwood and others to foreclose a $3500 mortgage against property in Santa Ana.

Piano Company Sues
The Danz Piano company, of Anaheim, demanded judgment for $915 against J. E. Weller, of that city, in a complaint filed today in superior court through Attorney Leonard Evans. The action is based upon an alleged contract for the purchase of a piano. Besides the principal, the plaintiff asks $20.97 interest and $150 attorney fees.

Bank Files Suit
To establish ownership of a $2500 note, the First National bank of Santa Ana, has filed suit in superior court against the estate of the late Sarah J. Miniken. Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel represent the bank.

Hearing Postponed
Hearing of a charge against L. E. Dunning, of Anaheim, has violated his parole in connection with a check-kiting charge, was postponed yesterday by Judge James L. Allen for one week. Dunning is alleged to have written more worthless checks.

PREFER U. S. FILMS
OTTAWA, March 19.—The lady of the snows likes her neighbor's movies. More than 23,000,000 feet of film were imported last year from the United States and less than 300,000 from the mother country.

DR. PATTON IS CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Dr. M. A. Patton is a candidate for the school board.

A delegation of Patton's friends called on him in his office this morning and induced him to run for office and shortly afterward nominations were being circulated and will be filed on Monday.

Dr. Patton is one of the best known dentists in Santa Ana. Born in Nebraska, he came to California when a youth and was graduated from the Santa Ana high school, class of 1900. Following graduation, he attended the dental school at Northwestern university, graduating in 1903.

Friends of the latest candidate for the school board declare he is well acquainted with the needs of the public schools of the city. He has a daughter, Thelma, in her last year in Santa Ana junior college and a son in his fifth year in a grade school.

CONVICTS ORDERED TO TESTIFY HERE

To testify for the defendant, Raymond Remington, charged with robbing the First National bank, at Olive, in June, 1924, three convicts in two California state prisons will be brought to Santa Ana next week.

Sheriff Sam Jernigan today received instructions to bring F. E. De Clark, John Walker and Kirk Morgan to Santa Ana, on March 25, when they will be used as witnesses for Remington. The witnesses were requested by Franklin G. West, attorney for Remington.

De Clark and Walker are inmates of San Quentin prison and Kirk Morgan is at Folsom prison. Sheriff Jernigan said he would name three deputy sheriffs to go after the prisoners tomorrow. The officers will leave here tomorrow night, taking with them R. F. Herzog, John F. Beebe and Fred Bailey, who yesterday were sentenced to prison on charges of passing fictitious checks. Herzog and Beebe will go to San Quentin, where they have been sentenced to serve from one to 14 years, and Bailey will go to Ione.

Man Is Placed On 2-Year Probation

Sentence was suspended for two years in the case of Edward Delaney, Huntington Beach oil worker, who yesterday asked Superior Judge James L. Allen for probation in connection with a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Delaney, it was shown, had given liquor to a 17-year-old boy. He explained to the court yesterday that he had not known the boy was a minor. He admitted, however, that he knew it was wrong to have liquor in his possession.

The court placed Delaney on his good behavior for the two-year period. Attorney D. G. Wettlin represented Delaney at the proceedings. Deputy District Attorney Sam L. Collins appearing for the state. Collins said his office had no objection to probation in the case.

Fewer Babies Are Born In England

LONDON, March 19.—Fewer babies are being born in England, according to the latest statistical returns, but those that are born are healthier.

Birth statistics for the last quarter of 1926 show that 164,489 children were born during the quarter, a decrease of 10,413 over the previous quarter, and the lowest ever recorded except for the fourth quarter of 1917. The latest figure works out at a birth rate of 16.7 per 1000 of population.

Infant mortality during the quarter was 70 per 1000 registered births which was 9 per 1000 below the average of the ten preceding four quarters. Further analysis of the statistics during the quarter show that 1044 males were born to every 1000 females.

"LITTLE FROZEN FACE"—So This is War!—BUSTER KEATON in "THE GENERAL"

Attractions At Local Theatres :-:

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

An imposing bill of vaudeville acts comes to the Yost Broadway theater for two days beginning Sunday, offering songs and music, both popular and classical, comedy, dancing and novelty entertainment. For variety, the program would be difficult to improve and it has plenty of quality.

The Southern Serenaders, who headline the bill, is an aggregation of four singers who present an offering consisting of popular song numbers, ballads and old time Southern melodies. As a friendly tip to music lovers, be sure to see this incomparable group of harmonists. They certainly have the goods and know how to deliver them.

Woods and Francis with their inimitable manner of presenting a song or conversation promise to supply sufficient mirth to tone almost any individual for a year. Their songs are of the special and popular variety and their voices are especially suited for harmony singing. Their dialogue embraces a wide variety of subjects and is punctuated with hearty laughs.

A surprising variety of entertainment will be contributed by Frank Reckless, said to be the world's greatest trapeze artist, and his wonder girls, Sylvia Mora and Hill Vande. Frank Reckless will display his skill at balancing head downward on a swinging trapeze while one of the girls clings to his downward extended hands. Miss Mora, a fascinating beauty, is to offer songs and dances.

Harold Alberto is a top notch magician with a taking stage presence, a clever line of monologue and a number of tricks and sleight

of hand. He is billed as "The Gay Deceiver."

One of the finest musical attractions ever to play this theater is included in this bill. It is called an "Instrumental Interlude," and will be presented by the three Crowell sisters. They hail from Boston, where they established themselves in music and concert circles before their vaudeville appearances. The girls play standard and popular music in various ensembles, using flute, cello, piano, piccolo and six saxophones.

Richards, America's greatest magician, who is delighting, thrilling and entertaining with his mammoth show at the Yost theater. This is one of the largest, most elaborate and entertaining shows of the kind that has ever played in this vicinity and one of the finest regular road show productions booked for Santa Ana for this entire season.

WEST COAST-WALKER
If you enjoy thrilling, virile stories of the northwoods, there is a distinct treat in store for you at the West Coast-Walker theater tonight.

It is "Prisoners of the Storm," and it is a picture which will bring joy to the hearts of those who like to witness primitive drama in the out-of-doors.

The story was written by James Oliver Curwood, whose tales of the north have made him one of the most popular writers of fiction alive.

House Peters, who has always been identified with pictures of this type, has an unusually colorful and romantic role as the star of "Prisoners of the Storm," and he makes the most of every opportunity.

WEST COAST-WALKER
More pretentious than ever is the Fanchon and Marco stage presentation, billed as the Fan "Idea," which comes to the West Coast-Walker theater Sunday.

A huge fan, placed against black velvet drops, forms a striking setting for the acts, which feature Edna Covey, formerly of the Ziegfeld Follies. Miss Covey scores a triumph with her comical cavortings. Her "swan" burlesque as well as her skit are responsible for continuous laughter. It is said.

In addition to the headliners, a group of clever offerings characterize the presentation.

The adagio team of Ted and Sally is a particularly interesting offering. Some extraordinary feats of skill are exhibited by the two. Cushing and Hutton are finished artists, whose voices, in beautiful duet work, enhance the gorgeous effect of the "Fan Idea" which has been termed one of Fanchon and Marco's most beautiful productions.

Buster Keaton—he of the frozen face—will be shown in "The General," his great comedy spectacle of the sixties, the comedian's most pretentious effort.

"The General" is based on actual historical fact. The Andrews railroad raid of 1862 inspired the comedian to make a huge comedy spectacle, with thousands of soldiers and lavish sets in nature's studio, with three Civil War railroad engines bumping over the ties and jouncing audiences out of their seats with laughter. Marian Mack, a brunette, is the Southern belle for whom the gallant Buster stakes his shirt—the grey flannel one.

Nearly all of the action is hilarious, swift-moving railroad fun, with Buster as the engineer of "The General," an historic engine of the sixties, which chased and was chased by another iron horse all over the countryside.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER
Warner Baxter, Lois Wilson, Neil Hamilton, Georgia Hale, William Powell, Hale Hamilton, George Nash, Carmelita Geraghty, Eric Blore, "Gunboat" Smith and Claire Whitney.

If this isn't a cast to write home about, you've never seen one! Each of these players is in "The Great Gatsby" which closes at the Yost Broadway theater tonight. And—none of them has ever appeared to better advantage.

"The Great Gatsby," adapted from F. Scott Fitzgerald's famous novel, tells the tale of Jay Gatsby, a mysterious figure in Long Island society. His house is the rendezvous of pleasure and excitement seekers. Through it wanders a lonely figure, friendless and "just a good fellow"—the host. He lives but for one thing—the girl he left behind on going to war. Married to another man, Gatsby believes she still loves him.

Warner Baxter makes a real person out of Gatsby. Lois Wilson plays Daisy Buchanan, which should be doubly interesting in view of the fact that Lois flaunts her new job for the first time. Neil Hamilton and Georgia Hale complete the featured quartet.

Richards Closes at the Yost Sunday—Final Answers

The following is the final installment of answers Richards has given The Register. An avalanche of questions poured in during the last two days, making it impossible for Richards to answer them all in the allotted space. However, all the questions were answered in the exact order in which they were received. First come, first served. The early questions naturally received the preference.

Richards closes his engagement at the Yost Theater Sunday matinee and on night with his big amazing show of wonders, thrills, girls, music and mystery, which is the largest and finest attraction of the kind ever brought to this city and those who have not already witnessed this unusual show should avail themselves of this last opportunity. Richards will also be glad to answer your questions at the theater tonight or Sunday. It is stated that a real live baby will also be given away to some lucky person. If you sent your question in early your answer should appear below. Questions from out of town have received the same attention as local queries.

W. L. S.—Tell me where to locate my son-in-law Frank, who skipped out over a year ago.

Ans.—He is now living with his former wife, Emma, at 2814 Banks Street, Superior, Wisconsin.

E. W.—Will my mother ever receive her father's money from Ireland?

Ans.—She can get it this next year, but it will require a competent lawyer to handle the legal part of securing the money.

R. F.—Please tell me if we are going to sell our place for the price I want.

Ans.—You will have to hold on to this property for at least another year to receive this price.

H. M.—How soon am I going to marry and to whom?

Ans.—You will marry Katherine, to whom you are now engaged. You will be married in exactly nine weeks.

J. F.—Will I marry the girl I am now engaged to?

Ans.—Yes, you will marry the second week in May.

R. H. C.—I have lost a wallet containing some very important papers. Can you locate this for me?

Ans.—Look in the pocket of a light colored suit of clothes your wife packed in a trunk two weeks ago, and you will find the wallet.

M. H.—I am contemplating changing positions. Please advise me.

Ans.—I advise you to make a change, as you would do better financially.

J. C. T.—Is the job I am waiting for the work I should follow as a vice work?

Ans.—I see that you will do as well in this line as any other.

D. W.—Will I be successful in selling my farm?

Ans.—You will not be able to sell to any advantage for another year. At that time you will get a fair price for it.

W. J. S.—Can you tell me if my uncle Charles is still alive and where?

Ans.—Your uncle is at present living and working at Glendive, Mont.

L. S.—What has become of my pearl ear drop? Is it lost?

Ans.—Your ear drop is among some soiled linen and clothing in the middle drawer of your dresser.

J. A.—Should I sell my property as I have planned?

Ans.—This will be your best opportunity.

M. D. T.—What line of work shall I follow?

Ans.—You would succeed best in commercial and sales work.

C. S.—(Anahem)—Kindly advise me the whereabouts of my ring.

Ans.—Your ring is among a lot of soiled clothing deposited by the end of the dresser. Evidently your ring was knocked off the dresser among the clothing.

This is Mr. Richards' last answer to readers of The Register and if your answer did not get in it was simply due to your question not arriving in time for publication. All questions were answered in the order received, however Mr. Richards will be glad to answer your question or Sunday matinee and night at the Yost Theater, Superior Street, during the mental part of his mammoth big three hour show of amazing wonders, thrills, laughs, pretty girls, music, dancing, mystery and splendor. Or, private question blanks may be had at the theater ticket office which will assure you a prompt and private answer. Richards and his big company have been making a tremendous hit all week as the show is the largest and greatest of the kind ever in Santa Ana. Adv.

Tiaras Discarded
Due to Shingles
LONDON, March 19.—Diamond tiaras, for centuries the favorite headdress of British aristocracy, have been cast into the discard with the widespread adoption of the shingle and the Eaton crop.
A tiara, it develops, cannot be made to look well on a shingled head. It won't "stay put." It looks top heavy.
This, at any rate, is the verdict of the women of the nobility in England, and their verdict seems to have been born out noticeably at the ceremonies incident to the opening of parliament, where very tiaras were to be seen.

But instead of locking up the tiaras in the family vaults for safekeeping until a day when long tresses shall return, most of the women have turned their tiaras over to jewelers, for breaking up and remaking, and the late tiaras reappeared at the parliamentary ceremonies in the form of diamond collars, bracelets or splendid rings

What might have been a serious

12 o'clock Friday night, when the ment succeeded in extinguishing flames that were licking at a $50,- 000 Richfield oil tank, having spread from a Richfield gasoline truck and trailer, which caught fire near the company's absorption

Buick Stays in Style

Motor car types come and go, just as motor cars do. But the grace and distinction which characterize Buick always stay in style. They never become commonplace. The reason is, that Buick style is sincere, and expressive of the quality that is in the car. Buick owners never are asked to buy a car of exaggerated design, with lines which might become distasteful to the eye. Buy a Buick! And you will always be proud of your car.

MARMON 8

Seven years ago, Marmon, sensing the inevitable trend toward a truly fine car in small and convenient size, began serious development work on just such a car.

Two years ago, such a car was actually completed and Marmon began exhaustive road tests extending into every part of America.

Two months ago the little Marmon made its first public appearance.

Today it is the most talked of car in America.

It contains the most powerful engine, in proportion to piston displacement, ever put in a stock car—the longest springs in proportion to wheelbase ever used on any automobile.

It will out-accelerate any car in traffic today.

It will hold its own with any car on the open road, regardless of size or price.

It will run all day long at high speed without strain or over-heating.

The old Germain packing plant, landmark in Santa Ana for many years, located just west of Southern Pacific tracks, on East Washington avenue, was almost completely destroyed by fire, which broke out in the building early last night.

Origin of the fire is not known, but because the plant had been vacant for the last three years, Chief John Luxembourger, of the fire department, is of the opinion that hoboes, sleeping in the place, had started the fire.

SPLIT NEAR IN BIG BOWLING SQUABBLE
PEORIA, Ill., March 19.—Promoters of the world's bowling classic tournament at Detroit which starts April 9 are trying to squelch attempts of American Bowling Congress officials to outlaw bowlers who take part in the classic meet.

Louis Peterson of Chicago, president of the world's classic, is leading the fight against adoption of regulations which would disqualify competitors in the classic from tournaments on the grounds of professionalism.

In combating the "classic" tournaments conducted in various cities, the A. B. C. is seeking to curb commercial aspects of bowling. The congress officials would limit fees for any tournament held under A. B. C. sanction to a maximum of $5 a person. Some of the "classic" tourneys charge $25.

SCHOOL DISTRICT PLAN DISCUSSED
Matters pertaining to a reported movement on the part of the Costa Mesa and Newport Beach elementary school districts to withdraw from the Santa Ana city high school district for the purpose of organizing a high district of their own, were discussed this morning in a conference between John W. Cooper, state superintendent of public instruction, and R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools.

Superintendent Cooper agreed with Mitchell that, unless the present law governing the formation of high school districts were changed so as to include elementary school districts, located outside city limits but forming part of city high school districts, there might be some obstacles to the movement contemplated by the harbor residents.

ORANGE COUNTY GAIN SHOWN IN CAR SALES FOR JANUARY, 1927

Increase of 5 Per Cent Is Noted, Compared with Same Month in 1926

LOSSES REVEALED IN MANY REGIONS

Report Issued on Number of Autos Distributed in Various Parts of State

Orange was one of the five counties in the state showing an increase in new car sales during January, 1927, compared with January, 1926, according to compilation of registration figures by the Motor Registration News, of Oakland.

According to this authority, Los Angeles county registered a gain of 6 per cent; San Bernardino, 24; Orange, 5; Riverside, 26, and Ventura, 20. Ten of the counties that classified as the leading 15 counties in the state in point of motor sales showed decreases, one of the 10 being in Southern California, San Diego, with a loss of 17 per cent.

Sales for State Decline
Losses in the oil, nine counties grouped in the 15 leading units were as follows: San Francisco, 10 per cent; Alameda, 15; Fresno, 32; Santa Clara, 29; Sacramento, 11; San Joaquin, 13; Tulare, 2; Kern, 10; Contra Costa, 11. Sales for the state showed a loss of 6 per cent.

Commenting on January registrations, the News says:

"The much delayed analyzed picture of just how the automobile new car registrations stood for January of 1927 in comparison with January, 1926, is presented here with a much improved picture over and above what most dealers were anticipating."

"The loss or shortage in new passenger and commercial car registrations for the month of January, 1927, was only 965 or 6 per cent less than the 15,556 sales made in January a year ago. The total number of passenger and commercial cars absorbed by the state of California during January, 1927, was 14,591."

"Making a division of the state into two groups, namely, Northern and Southern California, we

Car Made to Balk Rear Seat Drivers

LONDON, March 19.—A British automobile manufacturer has introduced a car with the rear seat backed up against the front one in hopes of solving the back-seat driving problem. Passengers in the rear seat are spared the distractions of driving which spoil motoring for some people. Windows are cut in the rear of the car to give a view of the fleeting landscape.

MANY STATES PLAN BOOST IN GASOLINE TAX

Increases in existing gas taxes are being considered in 20 states, and in the four states that at present have no tax, the legislatures are considering imposing a 2 cent-a-gallon tax, such as exists in California. If the proposed legislations in all these states is enacted, every state in the Union, and the District of Columbia, will have a gas tax and these will range from two to five cents a gallon.

This resume of the situation was prepared by the Automobile Club of Southern California and, while no estimates have been made of the total amount that will be collected if these increases all go into effect, it probably will be in the neighborhood of $100,000,000 the country over.

California has been leading all states in the amount of gas tax collected annually and probably will continue in the lead, as the highway measures now before the legislature will increase the existing 2-cent tax to three cents. New York, the only state in the Union having more vehicle registration than California, contemplates imposing a 2-cent tax, after having gone thus far without any.

Several states are stepping out boldly for a four and five-cent tax per gallon upon gasoline. Arizona contemplates raising to four cents a gallon, Colorado may go to four cents, and Idaho, Maine and Nevada are figuring on a five-cent levy. Arkansas already has a four-cent tax and is considering an increase. Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina and Virginia have a four-cent tax. Kentucky and South Carolina have been leading all states with a five-cent tax.

FOUR-BUTTON CONTROL WILL BE EXTENDED IN SANTA ANA

Experiment at First and Main Proves Plan's Value to Officials of City

SPEEDS UP AUTOS AT INTERSECTIONS

Scheme Held to Eliminate Dangers; Also Hastens Progress of Automobiles

By HORACE FINE
Automobile Editor of Register

Experiments by the street department with four-button control of traffic at First and Main street having demonstrated to the satisfaction of City Engineer Clyde Jenkins and Street Commissioner Stanley Goode that traffic can be speeded up, the street department is extending the four button method to all of the main intersections in the business district.

The department will gradually extend the work to include all important and dangerous intersections in the city. In adopting this plan, the city has taken an advanced step in developing plans for speeding up traffic at the intersection.

Advocated for Four Years

Readers will recall that I advocated this method at least four years ago, and made the suggestion on the basis of information given me by J. A. Smiley on his return from a tour through the northern part of the state, on which he observed that four buttons were being used on some important intersections in some cities in the north.

It is possible that balloon tires and low gear ratios on automobile steering apparatus have hurried adoption of the plan, here and elsewhere.

The practice of a car driving to the center of an intersection and then making a turn is a slow and cumbersome process, and traffic is slowed down considerably. At intersections where four buttons are in use, it is possible to cut in a semi-circle to the street on which a driver may be turning. This can be done without cutting the motor down to the speed necessary to make a turn at the intersection. It is estimated that a car can drive the four-button corner at a rate six miles faster than on a corner where the button is in the center of the street.

Plan Eliminates Dangers

Based on observation at First and Main streets, I will venture the assertion that the four-button plan eliminates dangers that exist at the center button corners. Records in the office of C. L. Rogers, chief of police, reveal that, since four buttons were installed at First and Main, there has not been an accident at the corner of sufficient seriousness to cause a report to be made to the police station. Prior to the installation, an average of three or four accident reports were filed each week.

Agency in Santa Ana Placed 564 New Machines During Year

The L. D. Coffing organization today was "pointing with pride" to the record it made in 1926 in selling Dodge Brothers cars and the fact that the agency is the only one in the state in the Class C division to attain the honor roll of Dodge Brothers.

Coffing has just received notice from John R. Lee, general sales manager for Dodge Brothers, of the distinction gained by the Santa Ana agency.

"The honor roll is comprised of the 50 leading dealers of the entire Dodge Brothers organization and places Santa Ana in direct competition with Atlantic City and cities of as great or greater population," Coffing said.

The agency placed 564 new cars during the year, Coffing revealed.

In a letter, complimenting the dealer here on the showing made, the sales manager says:

"The year 1926 must be to you a pleasureable milestone in your business. The accomplishment of Dodge Brothers, Inc., and the dealer organization during 1926 needs no recital. Over 330,000 new owners were added to our already long lists—one-third of a million expressions of confidence and good-will."

"Good-will according to the economist, is that part of the valuation of a company or corporation's assets that represents the public's esteem for it and, with Dodge Brothers, this esteem and world-wide confidence is valued at more than all its plants, more than its untold millions invested in equipment and modern manufacturing facilities."

"Dodge Brothers good-will is the reward of 12 years of honest and fearless manufacturing and merchandising principles."

"We believe that especially those dealers who are on the honor roll and your name is on it for 1926, have helped to a marked degree to increase Dodge Brothers prestige and Dodge Brothers good-will."

CARBURETOR NEEDS TO BE READJUSTED

In the words of the immortal poets, "Spring has come again." And with it, the fancy of all careful motorists turns toward getting the car ready for the summer, having in mind accompanying changes in summer driving conditions.

"Of no slight importance is a carburetor adjustment for warmer weather, says an official of the Associated Oil company, makers of Associated Ethyl gasoline, "that is, if the motorist wants to get the maximum mileage from his motor fuel."

"During snappy weather, when motors are normally much cooler, a richer mixture is in order, to aid in starting and to give the necessary pep to the motor."

"But a leaner mixture can be used during spring and summer months, which means a conservation of gasoline—more miles to the gallon."

GAIN SHOWN IN CAR SALES FOR JANUARY, 1927

find that while Northern California is 18 per cent shy of their 1926 record, Southern California came through with a 3 per cent increase in sales, which is represented in sales volume by 300. The number of new vehicles short in Northern California in meeting its 1926 quota was 1265.

Gain in Southern California
"The actual number of passenger and commercial vehicles as registered in Northern California for January, 1927, was 5750, while a year ago in January the total reached 7015. The same view of Southern California's registrations shows January, 1927, passenger and commercial car registrations total 8941 while January, 1926, record was 8641.

"Leaving the commercial cars out of the picture and just viewing the totals attained in the passenger car industry, we find January of 1926 with 14,426, while in January of this year 13,536 new vehicles were registered, making a shortage of 890 passenger cars or 6 per cent.

"Northern California sustains the same loss as when taken with its commercial car sales, but the totals reached naturally are different. The 1927 passenger car total reached was 5275, while in January, 1926, a total of 6440 was reached. This is a shortage in Northern California of 1165 automobiles or a loss of 18 per cent.

Increase of 3 Per Cent
"Southern California had a gain of 275 automobiles over and above the total of 7986 reached in January, 1926. This gain is represented by 3 per cent.

"The commercial cars, when viewed separately show approximately the same picture as regards the different sections of the state, inasmuch as Northern California registers a loss, namely 17 per cent, while Southern California gains 3 per cent, leaving the state record at 6 per cent loss.

"While Southern California sold 25 more commercial cars in January of this year than that of a year ago, Northern California fell short 100 cars of its 1926 total, therefore leaving the state figures 75 cars less in January of this year than the 1230 obtained in January, 1926."

WORLD PEACE IS SUBJECT OF KNIGHTS' TALKS

Greater advance toward world peace has developed during the last year than in any year since the World war, according to statements by various speakers at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Santa Ana Knights of the Round Table, held yesterday at St. Ann's Inn. The declarations centered about "outlawry of war" and were based on Senator Borah's resolution to that end.

George Ragan, president of the club, presided over the meeting, which was attended by a large number of guests, including visitors from other Santa Ana service clubs. The speakers were George Ragan, William E. Copeland, Clyde C. Downing and the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, all members of the Santa Ana table.

In introducing the subject of the day, Ragan took his listeners back to the days of ancient Rome, when Carthage was a serious rival of the world's metropolis. This rivalry, based on political and commercial power, aroused the hatred of Cato, the Roman statesman, who, in his endeavor to incite war against Carthage, always closed his speeches in the Roman senate with the slogan, "Delenda est Carthago," or Carthage must be destroyed.

At the speaker pointed out, Scipio led the Roman legions against Carthage and left the city and its civilization in ruins. Paraphrasing Cato's slogan and applying it to what he styled the greatest enemy of mankind, Ragan declared, "Delendum est bellum," or war must be destroyed.

To gain that objective, the speaker asserted, the war system, today given legal status by all nations, must be outlawed. Pointing to the fact that thinking people throughout the world are more and more beginning to realize the appalling cost of war, when counted in blood and treasure, the speaker continued: "For 1900 years the nations of the world have accepted the legal status of international wars. But the horrors of the World war—its sacrifices are too vast to be fully comprehended, reaching the stupendous figure of $337,000,000,000, which, described in other terms, means $9,000,000 an hour; $150,000 a minute, $2500 a second. Charged against it are 26,000,000 lives, 20,000,000 wounded, 9,000,000 orphans, 5,000,000 widows, 10,000,000 homeless refugees and other costs, which figures cannot express."

These awful facts, it was asserted, gradually are soaking into the minds and consciences of a thinking world, resulting in a profound conviction against the accused war system. This conviction, the speaker added, has been variously expressed by church organizations and peace societies during the last five years. It has found, at last, a voice in the halls of congress. On Dec. 9, 1926, Senator Borah, of Idaho, introduced in the U. S. senate a resolution looking toward the outlawry of war.

Explaining the outstanding features of the Borah resolution, Ragan told his audience that in this measure lies America's greatest opportunity for international service and her greatest responsibility and duty to coming generations. Every war-hating and peace-loving American citizen should demand in the most emphatic way possible of our representatives that they lead the way and co-operate with the representatives of the other nations in directing thought and action toward making war, the curse of the centuries, an international crime, Ragan said.

In conclusion, he said: "I repeat the slogan, 'Delendum est bellum.' War must be destroyed." As we contemplate the horrors of war and consider it as the greatest menace to Christian civilization, let us, like Cato of old, repeat and meditate upon this slogan until it becomes an obsession with us. Let us do what we can to get others to share this conviction. Thus, one by one, the lovers of peace will join the army of peace, whose rank and file contains the most princely men and women of this generation. Through the influence and power of an awakened, enlisted, organized public conscience, war can be outlawed just as duelling, slavery and liquor traffic have been outlawed. Then will the vision of the prophet and the dream of the poet be realized, when 'Nations shall beat their spears, into pruning hooks and their swords into plow shares'—'When the war drum throbs no longer and the battle flags are furled in the parliament of man, the federation of the world.'"

Ragan was followed by the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, who declared that with the exception of a few belliger-

REAL ESTATE COMMISSIONER VISITS BOARD

Stephen Barnson, San Diego realtor, recently appointed state real estate commissioner by Gov. C. C. Young, yesterday made his first official visit to the Santa Ana Realty board, driving from his Los Angeles office to make personal acknowledgment of the courtesy shown him when the board last week adopted resolutions expressing its appreciation of the action of the governor in naming him to this important position.

The commissioner made a brief address, in which he told the board members that it was his intention to pay particular attention to men who engage in the business of selling real estate and who fail to make proper showing of signs, as required by law.

He pointed out that a real estate sign must be displayed whether a man having a license is operating from a downtown office or from his home.

Barnson also emphasized contemplated rigid investigation and action against agricultural promotion schemes for the sale of lands, making reference to practices in the past where promoters have attempted big schemes without adequate means to make good on promises made to buyers.

Barnson was introduced to the board by Freeman H. Bloodgood, who holds the distinction of being the first real estate commissioner in California. Bloodgood having been appointed under the first real estate act adopted by the state legislature some years ago. A flaw in the act later made it inoperative.

A. A. Broek, county horticultural commissioner, was the principal speaker at the session of the board. Mock, in having a special speaker at the weekly sessions of the organization.

STUDEBAKER "COMMANDER" CONQUERS STEEP BREA INCLINE IN HIGH SPEED

Here's Studebaker "Commander" and group of men who saw the sedan climb Birch hill, Brea, in high gear Thursday afternoon. The hill is estimated as a 22 per cent grade, one of the steepest points on the seven-tenths of a mile climb. Left to right—Horace Fine, automobile editor of The Register; J. S. Martin, chief of police in Anaheim; Harry D. Riley, Studebaker distributor for Orange county, and Ab Jenkins, factory representative of the Studebaker corporation and owner of the machine. Insets—Riley (left) and Jenkins.

Stock Model Has No Difficulty in Climbing 22 Per Cent Grade

The Studebaker "Commander" today was the unquestioned "commander" of Birch hill, in Brea—at least it is the one commander of the hill in the opinion of Harry D. Riley, county Studebaker dealer; J. S. Martin, chief of police in Anaheim, and others, who Thursday afternoon saw Ab Jenkins, of Salt Lake City, owner, pilot the car over the hill. The car repeated its performance twice, with Martin and Walter Saunders, of Anaheim, at the wheel.

Jenkins, formerly a contractor in Salt Lake City, now a factory representative for the Studebaker factory, arrived in Anaheim on Wednesday and declared that his stock model "Commander" could eat up on high the toughest hill that Riley could show in Orange county and the Studebaker dealer at once took the boasting representative to Birch hill.

The highway climbs to an elevation of several hundred feet in a distance of seven-tenths of a mile. No car ever had been able to make the hill in high, according to Riley. The Jenkins car made the grade easily. Skeptical as to its performance, Riley demanded the privilege of driving the car himself. "I had the thrill of my life when the car walked over the stiff grade without laboring and at a good speed," Riley said, in commenting on his experience.

Enthusiased over the performance of the machine, Riley arranged a demonstration Thursday afternoon and a large group of men assembled at the point to witness the test. The automobile editor of The Register was one of the spectators and he can say without hesitation that the performance was one of the most remarkable demonstrations of pulling power it ever has been his privilege to witness.

The grade is estimated by Jenkins as an average of 12 per cent, with two points on the course running approximately 22 per cent. It is on the two latter points that the real test of power develops, but the Commander negotiated them without faltering and without materially lessening its speed. Hairpin turns also add to the difficulty in climbing the hill.

Jenkins asserts that his car is a standard model and that he has added nothing to stock equipment that gives his machine an advantage over the car sold out of stock. Riley confirmed this declaration after an examination of the model. "I have driven many cars in hill climbing tests, but I never drove one that climbed straight up hill as easily as the Commander," Chief of Police Wilson declared, after he had piloted the car over the steep incline.

SHAW APPEARS AS DEFENDANT IN COURT SUIT

LONDON, March 19.—George Bernard Shaw appeared in court yesterday and stroked his famous whiskers while listening to the detailed history of his dispute with Jesse Arnold Levinson, Los Angeles moving picture producer.

Shaw was defendant in chancery court in an action brought by Levinson for an injunction to restrain Shaw from telling film producers or other persons that any film entitled "The Chocolate Soldier" would infringe upon Shaw's copyright. The injunction also would prevent Shaw from otherwise interfering with Levinson's production or exhibition of a film version of "The Chocolate Soldier."

Levinson's counsel told the court that Levinson had been obliged to bring proceedings in London because a New York court's decision in favor of Shaw, when the court found itself without jurisdiction. Counsel also read a letter Mrs. Shaw allegedly wrote Levinson's solicitors, in which she acknowledged their letter and added:

"Legally, of course, it is the most frightful nonsense, but Mrs. Shaw quite understands that your client is not of a legal mind and that you are bound to acquaint him with what he supposes to be a legal case if he insists on it."

Police Asked to Search for Boy

Santa Ana police today were asked to search for Barney Hoskins, 18, son of a Watts woman, who reported that the boy left home yesterday, with a Boy Scout knapsack on his back. He is thought to be headed toward Santa Ana. The youth was described as being "extremely freckled," weighs 112 pounds and is five feet, two inches in height.

Louisiana, on account of the large number of its inhabitants who are of French or Spanish descent, is popularly known as the Creole State.

PHYSICIAN'S CASE STOLEN FROM CAR

For the second time since March 1, thieves, yesterday stole a medical case from the automobile of Dr. James Farrage, 2875 North Main street.

The case, stolen on the night of March 1, while the car was parked in a downtown street, was found the following day at Norwalk. It had been stripped of medicines and instruments. The case last night was stolen from the car while the machine was parked in front of the physician's home.

Sixty tablets of morphine, together with a number of instruments were in the case, according to a report of the theft made to police by Dr. Farrage.

A medical case owned by Dr. M. H. Robertson, Tustin, who has offices in the Medical building, was reported stolen from his machine here yesterday. The case contained medicines and instruments

TYLER BUYS SECOND MORELAND TRUCK; LOCAL DEALER FINDS BUSINESS BRISK

Homer Tyler, 426 East Third street, and the Moreland dump truck, he has just purchased through the W. W. Ross Moreland agency, 600 West Fourth street. This is the second Moreland that Tyler has purchased from the agency within the year.

The third sentence in the annual report of President Butler, of Columbia university, contains 1743 words, 125 commas and 32 semicolons.

Recent statistics show that there are more automobiles than kitchen sinks in the United States.

Purchaser Finds Santa Ana Representative to Be Square Shooter

That Homer Tyler, 426 East Third street, is satisfied with the services rendered by Moreland trucks is indicated by the fact that he purchased one truck from Ross on April 2, 1926, and last Monday he "came back for more" when he purchased a six-cylinder Moreland dump truck. "I have found that the Moreland not only delivers the goods, but that the local representative is a 'square' shooter, and the latter is rather an important factor for consideration when one is investing a large sum of money in motor equipment," Tyler said.

Orange county is good Moreland territory, Ross declared today, in pointing out that he has sold more than 100 new trucks in the 13 months he has represented the line here.

BURBANK FOND OF 1915 MODEL AUTO

With the death of Luther Burbank, known the world over for his wonder work in creating new and beautiful flowers, new and luscious fruits, and new species of all growing things, an interesting sidelight of this man was given to the public, according to George Ash, manager of the Overland-Willis agency. "It was known that the 'Beloved Gardener' was sentimental to a great degree, and, even though his consideration for things with which he worked was second only to his love for his friends of the plant world, nevertheless his sentiment for his one and only motor car surprised even his friends," Ash said.

"For 11 years he owned and drove but one automobile, a Willys-Knight, purchased in 1915, and his usual answer to all suggestions that he take a new model was, 'No, it seems part of the family, the motor actually does improve with use and it's running always, smoothly and quietly. Why should I change?'"

KANSAS MAY GET IMPROVED ROADS

TOPEKA, Kas., March 18.—Highway interests in Kansas are conducting a spirited campaign to take the state out of the neglected road class and establish a system of first class roads.

Officials of the National Old Trails highway are behind the movement, in hopes of removing the last barrier to an all-improved cross-country route.

At present there is a patchwork of better class roads in Kansas, construction of them having followed no definite plan.

The campaign has as its aim an amendment to the state constitution to create a highway commission and a state roads system.

There are about 200 miles of unsurfaced road in Kansas on the National Old Trails route. Of this, 75 miles will be graveled and 25 miles will be paved, leaving 100 miles to be completed.

If the amendment is passed, it is believed that this highway will have the 100-mile gap closed in short order.

One Death Yearly To Thousand Cars

Whenever the subject of "Safety" is agitated, statistics are quoted giving the number of killed and injured in the United States at large or in certain states or cities. These totals frequently astound the reader or hearer and are often so stupendous that the average mind does not grasp them clearly.

According to statistics compiled for the year 1926 by the safety first bureau of the National Automobile club, for every thousand cars there was one death, for every 100 cars there were three personal injuries, and for every 100 cars there were seven accidents.

Farmers on the Isle of Wight complain that a fog horn, newly installed, frighten their cows so much that they do not give as much milk as usual.

NEW LA SALLE
BIG RECEPTION

The new LaSalle, companion car to Cadillac, introduced to the motoring public in a world premier showing in Los Angeles recently, has been accorded the same wonderful reception throughout the United States as it was in Southern California, according to word received from officials of the Cadillac factory.

"Public interest in this new creation, which was offered to the world only after four years of the most intensive research in the laboratories of the Cadillac factory, and on the General Motors proving grounds, is demonstrated by the huge crowds which have viewed this newest entry into the field of motor sales," says O. R. Haan, of the Cadillac Garage, local LaSalle dealer.

"The LaSalle was developed because of a realization by the Cadillac Motor Car company that two cars are essential to the requirements of such a great number of American families, and also that there existed a demand for a slightly smaller car of Cadillac caliber, for a slightly different purpose. People who wanted such a car have voiced their definite opinion that a merely good car could not do what they wanted of a car, so there was clear need of a car of Cadillac's caliber. And that is exactly what the LaSalle supplies."

16-VALVE MOTOR
LATE ACHIEVEMENT

Arthur Chevrolet, nationally famous motor car designer and builder, on a recent trip to the Pacific coast brought with him his latest achievement in motor design, a 16-valve motor, built especially for the Frontenac Ford racing car, which will be driven by Skid Conners, a recent entrant in the Banning race, scheduled for Sunday, March 20. Chevrolet, with his brother, Louis, have made motor building and designing a hobby for many years past, and as each of them had a part in this latest creation, it is expected to attract the attention of racing drivers and enthusiasts over the entire country when it makes its first appearance on the Banning oval.

WILL SELL GENERAL GAS EXCLUSIVELY

The Citrus Tire and Service station, at the corner of First and Spurgeon streets, today was retailing General gasoline exclusively, following arrangements made this week. The station also will dispense lubricating oils manufactured by General, but will not be limited exclusively to these oils.

In making the announcement today, Kenneth Van Slyck, manager of the station, declared the General gasoline product had been given exclusive right at the station because of his belief that it is the best fuel product on the market today.

"The General is putting out a superior product, and as it has been my policy to give my customers only the best, I have completed a contract with the General Petroleum corporation for handling its gasoline exclusively," Van Slyck said.

Cowcatcher for Motor Car Urged

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—A bill has been introduced in the California legislature requiring motorists to equip their cars with a "life saving device so that, upon hitting a person, the automobile will pick up the pedestrian instead of passing over his body." The life saving device would probably resemble a cowcatcher on a locomotive.

NEW PONTIACS ANNOUNCED BY LOCAL DEALER

Announcing concurrently an entirely new line of Pontiac sixes, with new Fisher bodies, new beauty and style, numerous mechanical refinements, the addition of new body types, together with emphatically lower prices, is the triple treat made by the Oakland Motor Car company.

"Oakland and Fisher engineers have contributed body designs to conform to the latest custom-built vogue the bodies being longer, lower and superbly extended to the slightest detail," says Otto Haan, of the Cadillac garage, Santa Ana Pontiac dealer. "Recessed window ledges in contrasting colors, narrowed windshield pillars to provide a wider area of visibility, deeper radiator, larger, heavier and more sweeping crown fenders and more massive head lamps all blend to give an arresting rakishness and symmetry of body design to be found only in the smartest custom built cars.

"To emphasize the inherent smartness of the new cars, all bodies are finished in new combinations of Duco colors of fresh and original color blendings to bring out the individuality of each body type. Every desirable appointment has likewise been provided in line with the advanced design of these cars.

"The foot-controlled tilting beam headlights, which has been such a marked success on the greater Oakland six for the last seven months, are now standard on the Pontiac sixes, adding to both the comfort and safety of driving. A 17-inch steering wheel, with aluminum spiders, is another refinement adding to the beauty of the new line, while other new features and refinements in engineering design, such as new transmission and brake levers, a clutch even more smooth and positive in action and an oil-sealed universal joint, increase the mechanical efficiency and add to the ease of operation of the cars.

"As the first open model to be added to the line, the Pontiac six roadster is an entirely new and distinctive body type, with a rumble seat in the rear for two passengers. The body of this car is so constructed that the rear section may be removed to provide space ample for a panel delivery box."

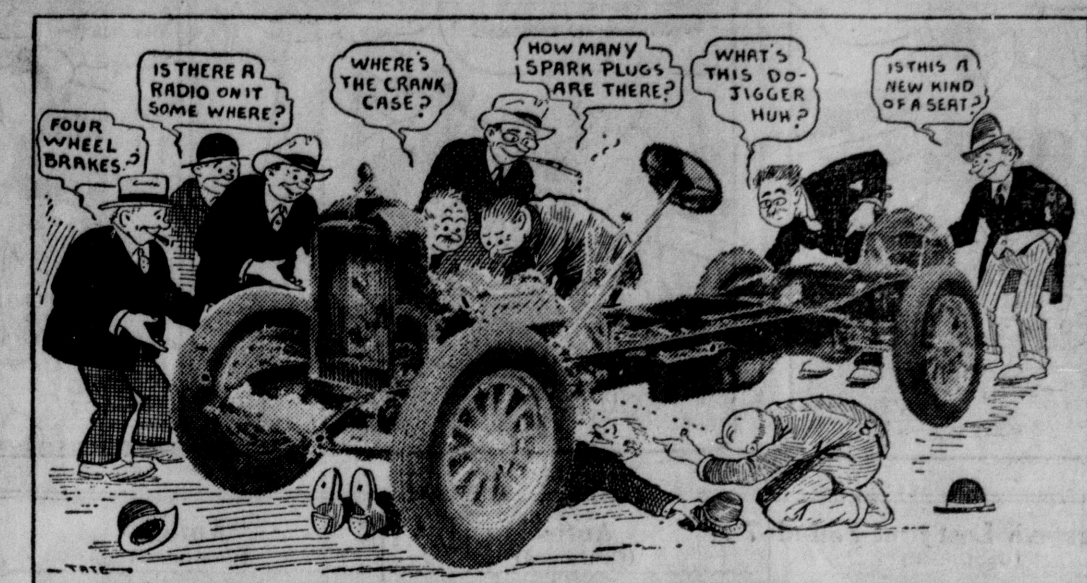

ALL IS READY FOR RACES AT BANNING

BANNING, March 19.—According to Banning speedway officials, everything is in readiness for the seven-event racing classic scheduled for Sunday afternoon. Drivers trying out on the track said that it was in excellent condition and that the new foundation and surfacing made a greater speed attainable.

At the time trials, all previous records for the track were broken when Barney Kleopfer turned the oval in 27.1 seconds, with Eddie Winfield and Harry Hooker's 99 running close second and third, respectively.

There will be seven main events, including a motorcycle race, a new feature for these races, and it was stated that the richest purse yet offered for an event on the Banning oval will be the prize for the winner of the American Legion 30-lap sweepstakes.

NICKEL-PLATED CADILLAC CUT-AWAY CHASSIS TO BE ON EXHIBITION HERE

Nickel-plated Cadillac cut-away chassis, which will be on display at the Cadillac garage, Second and Main streets, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The chassis has been displayed at the New York, Chicago and Los Angeles auto shows and has been sent to the coast by the Cadillac Motor Car company in its national campaign of educational and instructional work. The chassis is a vast improvement over the first one shown by the company in 1907. Don Kendall, special representative of the Cadillac company, is in charge of the equipment and answers all questions the public might want to ask. "The chassis is one of the finest finished pieces of cut-open mechanism ever exhibited," Otto Haan, of the local agency, declared.

THINK INCOME TAX SCHEDULED FOR REDUCTION

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The federal income tax is destined to be reduced next year at least 25 per cent, according to reliable indications.

Republican leaders here have decided that political and economic conditions necessitate a tax reduction before the presidential elections next year and it will be granted soon after congress reconvenes in December.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon says the treasury surplus this year will exceed $500,000,000, as compared with the $333,000,000 estimate made by Mellon and President Coolidge at the opening of congress, last year. The $500,000,000 will be applied to retirement of the public debt, the interest of which now is absorbing much of the taxes collected. Next year's surplus will be used for the reduction.

Democrats knew this was coming and attempted at the session of congress just closed to force some sort of tax reduction. The government's fiscal year (its business year) does not terminate until June 30 and Republicans therefore argued that it would be unwise to deal with the nation's finances before congress knew exactly what the surplus would be. Democrats charged that the Republicans were holding off the tax reduction until just before the presidential campaign of next year to capitalize the political effect.

Tax reduction will be made the salient point of the presidential campaign if Republicans can do it, especially if President Coolidge runs for re-election. The record of reduction and economy (which Republicans were holding off the tax reduction) will be stressed to the utmost. The president asked at the opening of this session that a rebate be made on taxes paid last Tuesday. Congress overruled him and failed to grant the request.

The democratic position is explained by Senators Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, and Reed, democrat, Missouri, who demanded in the closing days of congress that a rebate of at least 25 per cent be authorized.

When the republicans bring in their bill in December, an effort may be made to revise the schedules, but the proposal for the general 25 per cent reduction will not be opposed. Tax reduction, like peace, law and order are issues that everyone generally is for.

POLICE SEEKING ALLEGED MOVIE TEST FAKERS

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, March 19.—When officers from the sheriff's office went out yesterday afternoon to close in on local representatives of the Hollywood Cinema Test studios, suspected of fleeing movie struck girls here, they found the men had disappeared.

The sheriff had been investigating operations of a branch office of the cinema testing concern for several days and determined to take two men who acted as local representatives into custody as a result of information from the sheriff at Los Angeles that the Hollywood Cinema Test studios was apparently a fake concern, not authorized to represent Hollywood producers in any way and not located at the place advertised.

An air mail letter from the sheriff caused the officers to decide to arrest the local men for the alleged fleeing of several girls out of 25 on the promise of making them "movie actresses," but when officers reached the suite that had been occupied by the men in a local hotel, the agents, with their cameras and films, had disappeared.

It is believed by the sheriff that the agents got only about $300 or $400.

Welfare Workers Plan Big Meeting

DES MOINES, Ia., March 19.—More than 4000 welfare workers from all parts of this country, Canada, Mexico and abroad will attend the fifty-fourth annual National Conference of Social Work here, May 11 to 13, Dr. John A. Lapp, Chicago, has announced.

Internationally known speakers will address the 200 meetings, scheduled for discussion of better methods of welfare work. The list of speakers includes: Jane Addams, Chicago; Royal Meeker, Carlton college, Minnesota; Howard W. Nudd, New York; Dr. Samuel T. Orton, Iowa State university; Henry C. Wallace, Des Moines farm editor; Rabbi A. H. Silver, Cleveland; Edwin J. Cooley, New York; Riley M. Little, Albany, N. Y.; Charles A. Prosser, Minneapolis.

Try Pico Boulevard for Riding Smoothness

Los Angeles' new Pico Boulevard, seven miles long and 70 feet wide, paved with concrete, is a million dollar improvement aimed at better traffic conditions.

This most direct route to the ocean now presents an unyielding, hard surface, finished true and even—a boon to swift, sure, comfortable traffic movement.

It is substantial for heavy traffic, because the pavement is dense, rigid portland cement concrete, 8 inches thick with 10-inch edges.

Heavy trucks and fast, light passenger automobiles require floor-smooth pavements to eliminate impact; gritty surfaces the tires can grip when brakes are applied; strength to carry the heavy loads. A concrete pavement fully meets all these needs.

THE LIFE OF CHRIST Jesus: Loving and Beloved

SYNOPSIS ARRANGED BY DR. WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
SKETCHES BY KROES

Thronged by multitudes who followed him to a desert place to hear him preach, Jesus miraculously fed five thousand with "five loaves and two fishes." (Matthew XIV: 13-21)

The disciples storm-tossed on the Sea of Galilee saw Jesus walking to them on the water. (Matthew XIV: 22-26)

Peter, venturing to meet Jesus, began to sink, but Jesus stretched forth his hand and rescued him. (Matthew XIV: 28-31)

Later, at Capernaum, Peter made his great confession of Jesus, "And we believe and we are sure that thou art the Christ the Son of the living God." (John VI: 69)

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The cow that leaped across the moon had disappeared from vision soon, and then the little Tinties heard a shout not far away. The cat that had the fiddle ran as fast as any kitten can. This made the Tinties feel real bad. They liked to hear it play.

And, as they heaved a sorry sigh, they quickly found the reason why the cat had done a hop and jump and disappeared from sight. 'Twas something else that drew up near, and Scouty shouted, "Lookit here, I see a laughing dog." And they all found that he was right.

The dog, of course, was just the sort that always laughs to see such sport. It stood out in the open and it looked up toward the sky. It, too, had seen the big, cow leap across the moon with one sweep, and that's the reason why it had a twinkle in its eye.

And then excitement filled the place. Amusement crossed each

Tiny's face. A dish came tearing down the road, as fast as it could come. It seemed to race along with ease while stirring up a puff of breeze. And Clowny said, "Oh, mercy me, he sure is going some."

And now guess what was in the dish. You all can do it if you wish. That's right, it was a little spoon that clattered all about. You've surely heard some people say, "And then the wee dish ran away." That's in a nursery rhyme that you will all recall no doubt.

The dish and spoon went out of sight. It tickled every Tintymite. "And now," said Scouty, "what is next? I hope we see some more."

"Don't be impatient," Copy said. "Impatience is a thing I dread. Of course we'll see some other things. That's what the land is for."

BEAUTY CHATS
BY EDNA KENT FORBES

ELIMINATING GREY HAIRS

Several days ago I wrote about the tendency of young people to have gray hairs, advising an examination of the scalp by a specialist when there is no improvement after a short time. I realize there are times when this could not be done, so I am reminding the readers of the "Chats" again of the pilocarpine tonic, which not only is an excellent tonic and an antiseptic treatment for the scalp, but acts as a stimulant to the color cells. You may have the formula if you wish it and send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing.

A henna shampoo will tint the stray hairs so they are not seen when combed into the rest of the hair, and since henna is a tonic that will also color the hair, you will not interfere with either a specialist's or your own treatments when using the pilocarpine tonic. This will disguise the hairs until your scalp is working normally again.

The shampoo is made by mixing together one ounce of powdered henna and three ounces of powdered castile soap. Dissolve a large tablespoonful of this in a pint of hot water, and use it to make a lather that will cover the entire head. Work the lather up all through your hair and let it remain on for 15 or 20 minutes. Rinse thoroughly using changes of water, making the last one cold. There will be no change to the natural color except a slight tinge or gloss, but the white hairs will be a deep tan color and almost invisible.

Tiny.—Cold water dashed over the chest will stimulate the circulation and help to reduce when there is tendency to be too stout; it will also help a flabby condition because it makes the muscles firmer.

Mary Lou.—The size of the eyes do not count for as much as their expression.

A. B. C.—The few grey hairs you found may only be dead ones, and would not indicate that you are going to turn grey at an early age.

An egg shampoo will remove the slight amount of dandruff you have and all you need to do is to keep your scalp from this. In every other way it appears to be very healthy.

Mrs. W. S.—A cream made from a fine grade of almond or olive oil will not cause hair to grow. If you care to make such a cream for yourself, and send for my formula. I will be glad to mail it to you. Daily applications of ice will be very beneficial to your skin, so do not fear anything therefrom.

The WOMAN'S DAY
By Allene Sumner

Speaking of the modern girl, and what in the world is the universe coming to, anyway, we are reminded in a current magazine of the most scandalous thing that Alice Roosevelt did in 1902. Terrible! She and a girl friend drove an automobile from Newport to Boston, and stopped at Fall River, without men escorts or anything, for soda water! It was 74 miles and it took them 6 hours, and there were times when they went as fast as 24 miles an hour! Mothers and fathers of America felt sorry for the president that day!

L'envoi, and how we'll snicker in 1950 at the hue and cry about the girls of 1927!

LOTS OF SHADE

CHILD AND DIVORCE

"More divorce? Well, what of it? Give us a good reason why divorces are so bad, and it may have more effect than just saying how terrible it is!" You've heard that said any number of times. Here's an answer you might give—"80 to 90 per cent of all child crime is the product of divorce and a divided house."

MABEL'S TROUBLES

Everybody has their troubles! I'm weeping my little tear for one Miss Mabel Boll, the "Diamond Queen" who had to leave her vacation on the Riviera and flee because wicked designs concerning her diamonds, insured for one million dollars, were afoot. Mabel had to beat it back to Paris. If it isn't one tribulation, it's another in this world!

"IT'S NEVER BEEN DONE"

Because women are so fairly new in the business world, the little phrase, "It's never been done," does not mean much, if anything, to them, whereas men conduct all business on the basis of what's been done before. This, according to Anne Morgan.

I think she's right, too! Few of us have failed to observe that men cleave to precedent, the tried, the familiar, whereas women are eager to try out "the new thing."

WIFE'S AFFAIR

The family budget is the wife's affair, according to the ruling of Judge Walter Heady of Springfield, Mass. He ordered a niggardly husband who complained that his wife spent too much for food to pay whatever the wife demanded, with $2 extra pin money a week, besides. Maybe he's right in this case. Goodness knows there are enough male spouses who see no reason in the world why their wives should run up bigger grocery bills than did their mothers. But, there are wives, too, who find it much easier to "charge it" than pay for what they charge.

ONE TO PUFF ON

"I wonder," said the girl friend at lunch, "if we women don't smoke today to make up for the crocheting and tatting and knitting and embroidery that we don't do. I wonder if it isn't merely a manual habit to keep our hands from fusing. I notice that evenings and Sundays when I have runs to catch

Once he worried over debts
He was poor and talked of trouble;
Thought he had his share and double, Fancying that a rich man gets Skies of blue and mornings sunny
And no durns with his money.

Now he knows that never will Worry ever wholly leave him,
Even gold has power to grieve

Life is worry, through and through Care is ever at man's shoulder

Bodily Beauty's Ups and DownsAnother Exercise Entailing That Beneficial Spine-Stretching

Posed for NEA Service by Davenie Watson and Kathryn Appar, of Ned Wayburn's studio.

BY NINON
For NEA Service

THAT beauty has its ups and downs is demonstrated by the exercise I am going to advise today. It combines a number of highly effective muscular movements, with the spine-stretching that I recommend so highly.

Stand upright, knees together and arms stretched as high in the air as possible. Then bend the knees until you are sitting on your heels, at the same time lowering your arms until they are at right angles with your body. Then up and at it again.

This is more strenuous than it looks, and is apt to cause rather acute discomfort unless you begin with five or six bendings and work up gradually to greater speed and endurance.

As you raise your arms, try to raise your body as high as you can from the hips, and make yourself as tall as possible.

This exercise is more interesting if you do it to music. When you finish, it is well to rest by lying flat on the floor. Then follow with previous exercises which may be done in a reclining position.

BY SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Orange juice, cereal with cream, crisp broiled bacon, shirred eggs, bran toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Spinach in crostades, spring salad, raisin bread and butter sandwiches, grape juice, sponge, milk, tea.

DINNER—English beefsteak pudding, parsnip patties, hatted lettuce with cheese balls, junket ice cream with new maple syrup sauce, whole wheat rolls, milk, tea.

The English beefsteak pudding is rather unusual but very good and quite economical. The rule given will serve from four to six persons. If wanted for two or three persons use half the quantity of each ingredient and bake the pudding in a small dish.

English Beefsteak Pudding
One and one-half pounds round steak, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup milk, 2 eggs.

Cut steak into inch cubes and sear quickly in a little fat in a very hot spider. Shake the spider and sear cubes quickly and on all their surfaces. Mix and sift flour, salt, pepper and making powder. Add milk slowly, beating to make a smooth paste. Add eggs well beaten and the prepared meat. Turn into a well-greased baking dish cover and bake one hour in a moderate oven. Remove cover and bake 30 minutes longer. Serve from baking dish.

Queer Quirks of
- NATURE -

AN INSECT BEAUTY PRIZE WINNER

BY ARTHUR N. PACK

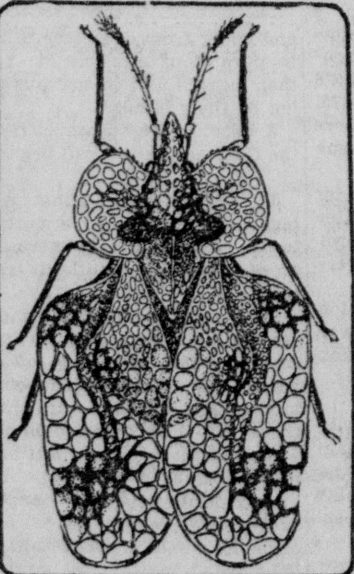

President, American Nature Ass'n.

If the debutantes of bugdom should enter into a beauty contest, corythuca arcuata, whose family name is tingitidae, would certainly be among the last to be eliminated by the judges, even if it didn't win first place.

It is so tiny, only from one-eighth to one-fourth of an inch in length, that one can not appreciate its beauty fully unless it is examined under the microscope. Then we will gaze rapturously, if we are nature lovers and can see beauty in a bug, at this airy fairy little creature, for the delicate meshes and tracery of its body and wings have earned for it the popular name of lace bug.

Perhaps Nature fashioned the lace bug in so delicate a manner that it might be invisible as it creeps among the leafy boughs of hawthorn and oak, upon the juices of which trees it subsists. It sucks the juices of the trees and sometimes in a severe infestation the foliage will become black-speckled and yellow spotted.

If you want to make the acquaintance of this bug beauty, look for it on the underside of thorn or oak leaves next summer. Here its eggs are laid and are fastened to the leaves by a sticky brown substance, a sort of insect glue.

NEWS FROM ORANGE COUNTY TOWNS

MOTORIST GOES THROUGH FENCE ON COAST ROAD

NEWPORT BEACH, March 19.—Mystery today surrounded the identity of persons who, Thursday night, drove through the barricade at the washout on the coast highway between Newport Beach and Huntington Beach.

Reports to the effect that a car had driven through a heavy board barrier and had jumped into the channel cut into the ocean by the Santa Ana river, were heard in Newport Beach Friday morning.

Investigation revealed that a light touring car was nearly submerged in the water. The car jumped off the end of the pavement and had traveled nearly 100 feet into the channel.

Later in the day investigation showed that the car had disappeared. Reports which reached here were to the effect that no one was injured in the accident. The names of persons involved in the accident could not be learned.

VOCAL STUDENTS TO SING AT BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 19.—Mrs. H. H. Benjamin, of Anaheim, county chairman of literature for Women's clubs, and Madame Manuela Budrow, of Santa Ana, county chairman of music for Women's clubs, will feature the program of the local Woman's club Tuesday afternoon. Madame Budrow will present a number of her pupils in selections and will sing several songs herself.

Mrs. R. E. Downs, chairman of the literature and education committee of the local Woman's club, will be in charge of the program. Mrs. F. H. McElfresh, Mrs. Elmer Lee, Mrs. E. J. Mossinger and Mrs. C. J. Mills are the hostesses.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO

MARCH 19.—At the Mission, restoration work is progressing satisfactorily. The 24-inch reinforced concrete foundations are all in and preparations are being made for laying the burned adobe walls.

This week electric lights were installed so that work could be carried on at the firing kilns without interruption. It is estimated that the work of restoring this north unit of the old quadrangle will require about 150 days. The cost will exceed $50,000.

W. S. Fulmer, local contractor, began the construction this week of a new home for L. P. Morrison. This will be of Spanish architecture and will contain five rooms. A tile roof will add to the attractiveness of the home. A large fireplace with tile mantel adorns the living room. The bath room will also be of tile.

Workmen are making good progress with the new home of M. F. Forster on Mission hill. The dwelling will be a five-room modern stucco building of Spanish style. Strang Brothers, contractors, hope to have it ready for occupancy in June.

Contractor Fulmer reports progress being made with the John Forster block on Main street. Fulmer hopes to have the foundation in and the walls well under way by the last of next week.

The old bakery building, moved from the site of the new Forster block to the opposite side of the street, has been thoroughly remodeled and renovated and is now one of the most desirable buildings in town for business purposes. One half of the structure will be used by Judge Landell.

EL TORO

EL TORO, March 19.—The birthday of Miss Mae Swartz was the incentive for a pleasant family dinner recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Swartz. The honoree was presented with a cedar lined mahogany chest.

Mrs. Harvey Bennett was recovered from the flu sufficiently to be about the house. Mr. T. F. McDowell and Mrs. Roy Silkwood visited at the Bennett home early in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Osterman were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Lentz, of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lurker, of Tustin, and Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Osterman one evening this week, bridge being offered as entertainment. High score was held by Mr. and Mrs. Lentz, with Mr. and Mrs. Osterman receiving the prize for low. The hostess served salad and sandwiches with coffee at a late hour.

E. O. Ahern, J. D. Smith, George Osterman and G. W. Smith motored to Tia Juana Wednesday to witness the races.

Mrs. Alf Trapp and Mrs. Marvel Linebach transacted business in Santa Ana Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Adkinson spent several days this week at their home in Trabuco canyon, returning to Santa Ana Thursday.

Boats with Same Name Differ in Other Respects

BALBOA, March 19.—The express cruiser Arrow, anchored in Newport harbor, is not the yawl Arrow which was stolen from San Pedro several days ago, according to Tommy Bouchee, captain of the boat.

Bouchee has been suspected by many local persons of having the stolen boat in his possession and today asked The Register to set people in the harbor district correct on the matter.

The Arrow anchored at Newport Beach is owned by H. J. Bauer, of Los Angeles. It is a 55-foot express cruiser and is one of the finest and fastest cruisers on the coast. It has been in its berth at Newport all winter. Bouchee declares that while the name of the stolen boat is identical with the name of his boat, the boats are far different.

SAN MARTINEZ OIL WELL TEST EXPECTED SOON

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 19.—Indications that the San Martinez Oil company is soon to make a production test at its outpost well at Ninth street and Ocean avenue, were noticed here today. The company is cleaning up around the rig and according to oil scouts, yesterday unloaded a gas trap, which is an excellent indication that the company intends to make a production test. The well is believed to be about 4300 feet deep.

Many property owners in the vicinity of the San Martinez well have leased or sold their property. Many other property owners are holding their land. Things are expected to move rapidly in the section if the company finds oil.

The Smith-Whitson well, located on Eighteenth street near Orange avenue, is reported to have placed on production this week. The well is said to be about 4400 feet deep and is producing about 400 barrels per day. A number of well known local persons, including D. R. White and C. W. Patrick are said to be interested in the well.

The Crudell company was yesterday issued permits by the city building department for the two new oil derricks. Both wells will be located in block 214. One is located on Fifteenth street near Walnut avenue, the other is located on Fourteenth street between Walnut and Olive avenues.

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, March 19.—Mrs. Guss Larson, principal of the Wilson school, took her class of 45 pupils for a picnic in the hills north of La Habra Tuesday.

The following were members of a party to enjoy a n outing at Orange County park Tuesday: Mrs. H. O. Untch, Mrs. J. E. Stordill, Mrs. S. Wardrip, Mrs. E. D. Fletcher and Mrs. Freeman Davis.

A number of people from La Habra are planning to attend the Beehive box social entertainment and dance at Brea Sunday evening.

Mrs. Emma E. Sweeney is still confined to her home on account of illness.

Mrs. W. A. Glazier is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Walter Little, at Long Beach, this week.

Mrs. Onas Lindsey is spending this week with her sister, Miss Margaret Glazier, at San Francisco, where she is playing on the stage.

A pretty St. Patrick's party was given by Mrs. W. G. Boettel, sister of Mrs. Bruce Stanford, at her home in Longwood Wednesday afternoon. Bridge was introduced in the afternoon with first prize going to Mrs. Gus Lindauer. Mrs. R. P. Cutting received the consolation.

Asked to the affair were Mrs. A. V. Douglas, Mrs. Guss Lindauer, Mrs. O. T. Stephens, Mrs. Gold Lindauer and Mrs. Bruce Stanford, of La Habra; Mrs. J. J. Powers and Mrs. R. P. Cutting, of Whittier; Mrs. W. Y. Eaves, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Sarah Wilbur was surprised Wednesday afternoon on returning from a drive to find the members of the Senior Ladies club had gathered at her new home for a housewarming and to hold her elaborate birthday.

Miss Elma Wilbur was taken in on the secret and had prepared a handsome birthday cake which was served late in the afternoon to the following women: Mrs. Jennie Cramer, Mrs. John Luehm, Mrs. Nellie La Monte, Mrs. Rosa Hodson, Mrs. E. E. Smith, Mrs. C. J. Lowen, Mrs. Flora Little, Mrs. Nancy Bellomy, Mrs. Mary Jackson, Mrs. J. Schofield, of Glendale; Mrs. F. Lindner and Mrs. Wilbur. A handsome scarf was presented the honoree by the women.

When the first trotting meetings under Grand Circuit auspices were held in 1873 the followers of the sport never dreamed of the rate of speed which now exists. At that time miles between 2:17 and 2:20 were considered marvelous.

There have been two applications made here for the job of school trustee for Westminster school. Mordant J. P. Hill and Thomas Edward Turpin have notified the secretary of the board of their desire to be put on as trustee. Election will be held March 25.

I. B. OIL WELL BRINGS JOY TO SCHOOL LEADER

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 19.—M. G. Jones, principal of the local high school is "riding on air" today.

Jones' exuberance is due to the fact that yesterday the California Petroleum corporation brought in its Jones No. 1 well on property at Ocean avenue and Nineteenth street, which the company has leased from the school principal.

According to reports the well came in at about 700 barrels of oil per day, testing 24.4 gravity and showing little emulsion and no water. The well is one of the most successful completed in the western section of town during the past few weeks.

Jones will probably receive a substantial sum from the well as most of the leases in the western section provide one-sixth of the oil for the property owner.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, March 18.—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Schiebler were shocked Thursday when the family received a telegram from Odessa, Mo., notifying them of the death of J. G. Thomas, Mrs. Schiebler's father. Mr. Thomas was 65 years of age, visited with his daughter and family here several months, and had left Westminster about three weeks ago for the old home in Missouri. According to the wire, he was found dead in bed Thursday morning.

Mrs. Thomas, his wife, had not returned to Missouri with her husband, but remained with Mrs. Schiebler and her other daughter, Mrs. Pearl Morgan, who was also a guest in the Schiebler home when the death message came. Mrs. Schiebler and Mrs. Morgan were the only children of the couple. The two sisters, their mother, and Lucille Schiebler and Dorothy Morgan, their respective daughters, left Thursday night about 8 o'clock over the Santa Fe from Fullerton for Odessa. Mrs. Schiebler is principal of the grammar school here. Her place is being filled by Miss Wheeler.

Mrs. Schiebler expects to return immediately after the burial of her father.

Mrs. Ralph Baxter motored to Los Angeles Wednesday to attend the annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society there. She was accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Weld, Mrs. Harry Penhal, Mrs. Joseph Walton.

Mrs. Floyd Morris and Mrs. Alice Hays were guests Friday afternoon at a shower for Mrs. Myrtle Beavers in Garden Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. S. House of Long Beach called Thursday evening on Mr. and Mrs. George B. Clough.

Glenn Byram of Glendale is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Byram.

Daniel Weld of Los Angeles is a guest in the home of Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Weld. He is helping to build a number of screens being made to use in the church hall for the Sunday School classes.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Rose and two sons of Baldwin Hills were at their Westminster home Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. King and Mrs. Mary and Mary, returned Wednesday night from an extended stay at their ranch in Hemet.

Mrs. O. J. Day and Mrs. Lorraine Edwards called Thursday on Mrs. Fred Miller of Santa Ana.

Rev. L. C. Flores and his family moved this week to Richfield. He was the minister of the Methodist church, Spanish, here.

John Baker is visiting until Sunday in Los Angeles, with Mrs. Frank Corbin.

Mr. Roberts, truant officer, was again called to Westminster Thursday because so many of the Mexican students were absenting themselves from school, without cause.

Joseph Edward is erecting a small electrical shop at one corner of his residence lot.

An enjoyable evening was had by a group of freshmen from the Santa Ana Junior college Wednesday evening in the large barn on the W. B. McCoy ranch here. Chaperoned by Miss Conkle, of Santa Ana, the class members and the McCoy home around 7 o'clock. They were invited to partake of a hard time supper in the barn, but no signs of discontent or poverty could be detected as the young people ate the mulligan stew set before them. In honor of St. Patrick's day they also were allowed to have mint jello and cinnamon rolls with green icing.

Guests were: Miss Conkle, Miss Thelma Morhouse, Miss Virginia Powell, Miss Vera Mae Smith, Miss Lois Green, Lee Staton, William Burt, Fernel Jones, Walter Chandler, Everett Trostle, De Wolf Murdoch, Harold James, Winton Johns, Aubrey Reinhardt, all of Santa Ana, Miss Constance Drake of Orange, Miss Polly Ross, San Juan Capistrano, and Miss Helen McCoy.

Members of the Westminster Thursday Afternoon Club enjoyed meeting in Long Beach Thursday, with one of their number, Mrs. H. B. Herod. An exchange luncheon at noon provided an occasion for pleasant social chat, after which tables were arranged for 500. Enjoying the hospitality of the Herod home were: Mrs. James E. Morgan, Mrs. Alice Hare, Mrs. Floyd Morris, Mrs. Robert Falcke, Mrs. Lora Hildebrand, Mrs. George B. Clough, Mrs. C. C. Murdy, of Los Angeles, Mrs. Blanche Blaisdell, Mrs. Charles Parr, Mrs. George Whitcomb, Mrs. Clyde Day, Mrs. Claire Wardlow, Mrs. W. A. Milholland, Mrs. A. B. Crane.

There have been two applications made here for the job of school trustee for Westminster school. Mordant J. P. Hill and Thomas Edward Turpin have notified the secretary of the board of their desire to be put on as trustee. Election will be held March 25.

NEWPORT FISHERMAN ADDS LURGE TO SEA LIFE EXHIBIT; WILL OPEN MUSEUM AT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, March 19.—Another queer sea animal, a lurge, was added to the personal collection of Rich "Shorty" Gunther here yesterday. The lurge, is known to the scientific world as a polychaean worm of the genus nephtys.

VILLA PARK FOLK FORM NEW BAND

VILLA PARK, March 19.—Sponsored by the Villa Park P. T. A., a band was organized Thursday evening in the school house with 17 charter members. The band will be instructed by C. A. Mendenhall of Long Beach. The musical aggregation will meet each Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Private instruction will be given by Mendenhall from 3:30 o'clock each Thursday, until practice time, at the school house. It was announced.

The members of the new band are as follows: Charles Havelly, Ronald Dollard, clarinets; Carl Allen, Willard Smith Jr., Harold Bushman and Mrs. H. R. Tritt, saxophones; Hazel Morrow and Jammie Warren, mellophones; Charles Gillogly, bass horn; Henry Tritt, slide trombone; Oswald Thomson, baritone; Lorin Gillogly, Billie Tritt, Jean Tritt, and L. O. Hanselman, cornets; Floyd Padias, bass drum; Louis Brown, snare drum.

The Cotton Blossom singers from the Piney Woods Colored children's institute in Mississippi, will be the attraction at the "Fathers Night" program to be held in the Elitiste company, it was announced by Mrs. J. M. Gillogly, president of the P. T. A., sponsors of the affair.

ORANGE

ORANGE, March 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Warren announce the arrival of a seven and a quarter pound daughter Wednesday evening at the Santa Ana Community hospital. The new-comer has been named Jane Ellen. Mr. Warren is a popular member of the high school faculty.

Mrs. John McCarthy and Mrs. Lena Barrick left yesterday for Glendora, where they will spend a few days with Mrs. Barrick's daughter, Mrs. Ira Nelson. Mrs. Barrick plans to leave Orange in two weeks for her home in Aurora, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. Baine Harris of South Clark street, welcomed the arrival of a nine-pound son Thursday. Mrs. Harris was formerly Miss Catherine Korse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Korse.

Mrs. F. L. Chapline, who underwent a major operation at the Anaheim sanitarium Wednesday, is getting along as nicely as could be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stankey are now residing at 119 East River avenue.

O. M. Knight and family have moved from 315 North Harwood street to Olive.

Mr. A. L. Tomblin and Mrs. C. H. Adams attended the all-day session of the auxiliary of the Telephone Association held in Santa Ana yesterday.

Mrs. Calvin Lester of West Chapman avenue, has been removed home from the Anaheim hospital. Mrs. Lester is getting along very nicely.

Miss Florence Barkhau and Chris Schroeder, who were both injured in an automobile accident Saturday, are still confined to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tayrien have moved from corner Palm and Lemon streets to their new home at 404 East Chestnut avenue, Santa Ana.

Mrs. Aaron Engel has been removed home from the Anaheim hospital where she underwent a gallbladder operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Scriven of Santiago boulevard, have moved to 383 North Orange street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Romsdale have taken an apartment at 253 South Lemon street.

Mrs. Cora Hedrick of 435 North Lemon street, has moved to 162 South Grand street.

Mrs. G. E. Melton has taken up her residence at 270 South Harwood street.

Crockett Riley is able to be out again after an attack of influenza. The woman's golf tournament held at Fairway Country club Thursday for the Pixley Furniture store trophy drew a number of feminine golf enthusiasts.

Final games will be played next Thursday, March 24.

Luncheon was served the group at noon in the clubhouse. Those playing were Mrs. E. M. Chapman, Mrs. L. A. Stevenson, Mrs. W. A. Knuth, Mrs. H. M. Gail, Mrs. J. C. Crawford, Mrs. J. F. Fluor, Mrs. Catherine Steward, Mrs. J. F. Rowley and Mrs. Osman Pixley.

Mrs. H. A. Gardner, Mrs. Fluor and Miss Elsie Fluor were guests of Mrs. J. F. Fluor.

RICHMOND VISITORS
BALBOA, March 19.—Miss Lillie Gum and Mrs. Elma Campbell, of Richmond, Calif., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jordan of this city. Miss Gum and Mrs. Campbell have been visiting friends in San Diego and are returning home. They made the trip from Richmond to San Diego by steamship.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Finster are considering the adoption of a little girl as a playmate for their small son. It was reported here today that the little girl recently arrived here from Kentucky and has been visiting Mrs. Elizabeth Osgood.

FIVE SEEK TO HOLD OFFICES IN SCHOOL VOTE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 19.—Five candidates will contest for the two positions to be filled on the high school board of trustees here March 25. W. T. Newland and D. T. Tarbox, incumbents have filed petitions declaring their candidacy for the office. Newland has been on the board for many years.

Mrs. L. R. Dunfee, well known club woman; Joseph Vavra, prominent nurseryman and city treasurer; and Arthur Wilson, geologist for the Standard Oil company, have filed petitions as candidates for the high school trustee job.

Two persons have filed petitions declaring their candidacy for the one vacancy which will occur on the grammar school board of trustees. E. J. Mossinger, office manager of the California Petroleum corporation and prominent club man, and Mrs. Roy K. Smith, well known P. T. A. woman have filed for the position. R. J. Prescott, incumbent, will not run for reelection.

The specimen secured by Gunther was fastened to a large rock. It was caught on a hook in 800 feet of water. The lurge caught by Gunther weighs several pounds. It greatly resembles a big head of cauliflower.

Gunther plans to add the queer sea specimen to his collection and open a museum here this summer. Incidentally, the lurge caught by Gunther is the second caught by the shore of Newport Beach during the past several years.

Gunther started his collection of freak fish and sea animals last summer when he landed a 2500 pound shark of the man-eating variety. The shark has been on exhibition in all sections of Southern California since its capture. Gunther has also added pin fish, ribbon fish, rabbit sharks, channel cod and other specimens to his collection.

Elitiste Force to Gather In Orange

ORANGE, March 19.—Executives of the branch of the International Harvester company at Los Angeles and 74 of the employees of the M. Elitiste company, Orange county distributors of the products of the International Harvester company will gather tonight in the banquet room of the I. O. O. F. building for the periodical dinner given by the M. Elitiste company. It was announced this morning.

The usual program of music and speaking will be carried out, state M. Elitiste, manager.

TALBERT

TALBERT, March 19.—Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Woodson and Mrs. Frank Calbrell attended, on Thursday, at Greenville, the monthly Women's Home Missionary society meeting, held at the Greenville church. The April meeting will be held at the Talbert church.

Ranchers are finding this a busy season about Talbert, the storm damage having added greatly to their work, especially in certain sections.

The first crops of beets planted are being cultivated, while others are being planted. On the Lamb ranch, peppers are being planted this week.

The temporary construction work, which has been in progress for the past several weeks on both the Talbert boulevard and the Adams road, where washouts occurred, has been completed and both roads are now in good condition for traffic.

Mrs. Mary V. Bushard was a visitor Wednesday in Talbert where she was a dinner guest in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Bushard, and also visited other members of her family here.

Old settlers of this section are looking forward to the Old Timers' social evening March 25, at Huntington Beach.

S. E. Talbert accompanied his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Talbert, of Huntington Beach, to San Juan Capistrano Wednesday evening where T. B. Talbert was the honor guest at a banquet attended by 70 residents from various sections of the county.

Mrs. Raines, who has been quite ill at the home of her friend, Mrs. C. Burley, is greatly improved and is able to be about the house now.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Giesler have returned to their home south of town, which they were forced to vacate at the time of the storm. At that time 15 inches of water went into their house and the drying-out process has been slow. The entire house, walls and floor, will have to be gone over, the paint and tinning having been ruined by the water.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Giesler attended the Elks' dance in Santa Ana Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Swift entertained as overnight guests Thursday Mr. Swift's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Swift, of Castlewood, S. D. The visitors are at present at Long Beach, Mrs. Swift having come here for the winter, while Mr. Swift, who is a telegraph operator, is on a two months' trip. They leave next Friday for South Dakota. On their return they will be located at Midway City, where they have purchased a two-acre chicken ranch.

Bishop Galloway motored here from Redlands Tuesday and was accompanied home by Mrs. Galloway, who has been a visitor in the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Woodson.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giesler, Miss Agnes Giesler, Miss Lucille Giesler, Harold Giesler, Mrs. George Bushard, Miss Rose Bushard, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Giesler and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lacabanne were among local people who attended the St. Patrick's function given by the Catholic church of Huntington Beach at the city auditorium Thursday evening.

The Talbert drainage district's dredger, which has been employed in cleaning out the canals since the storm, has completed the work.

Call Meeting On Sports Center; To Play Checkers

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 19.—Local citizens, who are interested in the strenuous pastime of tossing quoits through the ozone, expectorating at a crack in the floor as they ponder over the checker board, or who wish to emulate the famous William Tilden or Bill Johnson, will gather at the city auditorium, March 25 to endeavor to induce local city trustees to appropriate money to fix up the triangle block north of the city hall as a recreation park.

The park would include horse show grounds, croquet courts, tennis courts, and facilities for checker and chess playing, it is reported. The Huntington Beach Horse Show club is sponsoring the mass meeting.

Two persons have filed petitions declaring their candidacy for the one vacancy which will occur on the grammar school board of trustees. E. J. Mossinger, office manager of the California Petroleum corporation and prominent club man, and Mrs. Roy K. Smith, well known P. T. A. woman have filed for the position. R. J. Prescott, incumbent, will not run for reelection.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, March 19.—"Fathers Night" program celebration was held Thursday at the Oceanview school auditorium. About 250 persons were present, including persons from Los Angeles, Huntington Beach, Garden Grove, Santa Ana and other nearby communities.

The meeting was opened by the president of the Oceanview P. T. A., Mrs. W. Delavergne. The salute to the flag was first on the program. This was followed by the singing of a P. T. A. song. The business was carried over, with the exception of the reports of the secretary, Mrs. Elmer Gothard, and the treasurer, Mrs. Clinton Brush.

Charles Best, of the Excelsior Creamery of Santa Ana, spoke on "Thrift." Mrs. J. V. Kelsey, president of the Fourth District of the Orange County Parent-Teachers' association, spoke along P. T. A. lines, and Miss Birch, county school nurse for this district, spoke on school work. Miss Birch requested parents of children of pre-school age of this district to bring them to the Oceanview school for examination April 4.

The program closed with a song in honor of St. Patrick's day. Light refreshments were served by a committee of P. T. A. women. The Oceanview Parent-Teachers' association now has 105 members enrolled.

New services being installed by the water company and other reliable criterions indicate that the city is now by a considerable margin larger than ever before.

During 1923 the highest enrollment reached by the schools, it is said, was less than 725. When the oil slump came the attendance dropped off decidedly, but since then has been growing slowly.

Another indication of the growth of the community is the report from real estate men that there is practically not a vacant house in the city, and few, if any, vacant apartments. It is even reported that some recent comers to the city have been compelled to secure living quarters on ranches. This is in spite of the fact that building operations have been fairly active for some time past and there are now in the city accommodations for many more people than during the rush of 1923.

EVENING SALUTATION

"Love's not Time's fool, the rosy lips and cheeks Within his bending sickle's compass come;
Love alters not with his brief hours and weeks,
But bears it out until the edge of doom."
So build you fair, and build you strong,
And build to last a whole life long.
Prove every stone, make each line true
That all may be but joy to you.
For sure as life and death and day
Today will make you yesterday.
—Mary E. F. Rock.

MYSTERIES IN GAS PRICES

There are many every-day mysteries to which we give little thought. We merely recognize them as mysteries, and go on about our business.
It is a mystery of that kind that is furnished us by the fluctuations in the price of gasoline.

"John D. has made another contribution," we say cynically when the price goes up.
"Squeezing out the little fellows," is our comment when the price drops.

Just now we appear to be on the verge of some rapid changes in prices. At least, in Santa Ana, as elsewhere on the coast, the California Petroleum announced a cut of 2 cents a gallon.

The press contains surmises as to what it is all about. There is talk of a gas war.

But we aren't quite certain. We never are when there are changes in the price of gasoline. We pay the price, if it goes up, and are thankful, if it goes down.

ORGANIZE GARDEN CLUB

The organization of a garden club in Santa Ana is cause for joy. The purpose of the club, as announced by W. F. Whiting, elected president, "is to promote beautification of Santa Ana, to stimulate interest in home grounds, and to co-operate with the park and planning commissions."

We hope that this club will quickly have a large and enthusiastic membership. Its success will depend largely upon membership, as well as leadership.

Santa Ana needs an awakening to its responsibilities for maintenance of beauty. Possibly this organization can instill a new attitude toward street trees.
Possibly it can find a way to reduce the slashing and useless slaughter of street trees.

However, as the name implies, the club is devoted largely to gardening. Since a wide variety of plants can be grown in Santa Ana, since proper planting and attention gives us a wealth of flowers every month of the year, the club's activities are to be in a "fruitful field."

WARS AND SCHOOL BOOKS

A professor of history in Connecticut college, writing in the Advocate of Peace, gives a vivid example of the lop-sided view in which history is still written. He tells of two schools, one German and the other French, on opposite banks of a little stream which constitutes the Franco-German boundary.

"Hans, what caused the World war?" asks the teacher on the German side. And Hans, repeating the lesson he has just learned from his history textbook, says:

"English jealousy and French revenge were the chief among many causes. Germany is guiltless."

"Francois," asks the teacher in the French school, a stone's throw away, "what caused the World war?"

"The war," replies Francois, "was caused solely by German aggression. The Germans, believing themselves to be a superior race, had plotted to exterminate the French."

There are similar differences in the views taught regarding the peace treaty. Hans states, with the approval of textbook and teacher, that it is "a peace of enslavement and a gross breach of the Allies' pre-armistice promises." Francois states, with similar approval, that it is "a peace of justice, based on Mr.
Wilson's Fourteen Points, whereas the Germans planned for us a peace of slavery."

Hans and Francois cannot both be right. The teachers cannot both be right. The textbook writers cannot both be right.

Every nation, however, insists on writing its own history, with its own viewpoint, making school histories the greatest of all systems of propaganda and the source from which spring new wars.

WE LOVE FAIRY STORIES

Who says we are a hard-boiled, cynical nation?
Why, hang it all, we still believe in fairies!

Two men have been arrested in Chicago charged with getting out one of the wildest wild-cat mining stock schemes you can imagine. They claimed to own land in South America which not only produced oil, but had gold, platinum, diamonds and other little trinkets as well. The natives of this region, the prospectus said, ate and drank out of gold and platinum vessels.

They sold nearly $1,000,000 worth of stock on this prospectus!

Cynical? This nation just loves fairy stories.

CHICAGO, STRANGE CITY

Chicago must be rather a strange sort of city, in some ways.

Every so often there is a gang murder there. And always afterwards the police announce that the slain man was a "lieutenant" or something in some big beer ring or other.

Very interesting. If the police knew it, why hadn't the man been arrested for his part in the beer ring's activities?

Maybe the Chicago police work on the theory that if they leave 'em alone they'll kill each other off and save them the trouble.

WHEN EXPERTS AGREE

Hoover says the United States is in the infancy of its greatness. Education is in its beginnings. Our economic stability has hardly begun. In every respect the nation marches onward. But with all his forward looking, with all his optimism, he stresses the danger and foolishness of waste.

Prof. B. H. Barrows of the University of Chicago is depressed and pessimistic about our growth of population. He also urges us to look to our waste.

When two people differing so strongly in point of view see so plainly the same evil, the ordinary fellow might well take a look at his day, his health, his back yard and his budget.

The Universal Compromise

San Diego Union

The battle cry of freedom resounds in China today, as the Nationalist forces continue their slow advance against the lines of communication that connect the Shanghai area with Chang Tso-Lin's powerful armies of the north. And the Nationalist battle cry signifies, above all, a very specific and limited kind of freedom—freedom from foreign domination. It is the spirit of this battle cry which makes Shanghai a haven none too secure for the foreigners in refuge there. Yet it is interesting to notice that this millitant quest for freedom, founded upon the gospel of the late Dr. Sun Yat Sen, was very radically modified in the schemes of that great leader himself.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen wanted a free China, but he also visioned a prosperous China—a China developing and profiting by its vast resources, not isolated from the world by a reconstruction of old barriers, but reaching out into world markets and standing as an equal in the busy forum of an industrialized world.

And Dr. Sun Yat Sen, unlike the violent visionaries of Russia, did not believe that China could accomplish this regeneration through any miraculous workings of a new political gospel. In one of his last books he outlined a plan whereby the nations of the world should be invited to co-operate in supplying capital for China's industrialization, and in organizing an international board—patterned after the great war-work organizations of 1918—to supervise the vast and intricate business.

It is interesting to note, also, that the patron saint of the new China contemplated the use of capitalistic means to subsidize a socialistic distribution and use of the national wealth. China would be capitalized by the "capitalist" nations, yet internally organized along the lines of a semi-socialist state.
This dual formula is rather like Russia's present compromise, adopted under the compulsion of experience, though the political end of it is far less radical than the Russian doctrine, of course. When all is said and done, it represents the necessary compromise which any politi- -l formula must contemplate, unless it is willing to accept capitalized industrialism frankly as its god and conform its tents thereto. The formula of our own government, created before the industrial revolution, frequently conflicts and at many points with the demands of a thoroughly industrialized civilization; and our major political changes consist largely of enforced compromises with one or the other element in our national life.

It is probable that the Chinese Nationalists, endeavoring to realize the ideal of Sun Yat Sen, will overstep their mark; having invoked force, it will probably be impossible for them to stop short at any compromise, however beneficial. They will undoubtedly win the kind of freedom they seek. Yet when they have won it, they will come into conflict with an industrialized world against which no single nation can stand out in revolt. Having overstepped Sun Yat Sen's aim of compromise, the very circumstances of their victory will compel them to return to it.

Pell-mell to Weepah

Oakland Tribune

Only in the conveyances in which men ride to the scene does one gold rush differ from another.
There is ever the release of pell-mell adventure,
the high hope, the new-born democracy of the flats,
the men who dig and those who set up, nearby, various attractions calculated to tempt a portion of the rescued wealth.

Weepah which means "Little Water" is having a rush now and if the finds hold out Nevada will see a return of gold days to compare with those of the big water, Tonopah. The first samples promise even a larger reward, samples found by two sunbrowned boys, sons of prospectors. The shacks are up, automobiles chug across country without pause for flat tires or broken springs, men sell water at twenty-five cents a glass and what is called whisky at fifty. All over the land those whose ears are ever tuned to the call of gold and the gold-rush move in and the sagebrush hills are peopled with adventure.

Another rush, another big chance with everything staked on the risk of finding the precious ore! It is Weepah today and yesterday it was Tonopah and behind that the ruins of ghost cities and departed romance.

Perhaps they are writing the story of the "Days of '27" over there in the sagebrush.

HOT, COLD AND SALT WATER BATHS

There are all sorts of baths for all sorts of purposes. Briefly they may be divided into cold baths, hot baths, warm baths, carbolic water baths, steam baths, vapor baths and similar modifications.
With a view to the hygienic aspects of the matter exclusively, this statement will avoid any mention of champagne baths, ginger ale baths, milk baths or other theatrical modifications.

The warm bath cleanses the body, draws the blood to the surface, increases perspiration and has a soothing effect. Bathing in very hot water is dangerous, particularly to weakened persons and should not be done except under medical advice.

Cold baths taken in the morning stimulate the nervous endings in the skin and drive the blood from the surface, to which it returns with a rush when the person emerges from the bath and rubs himself briskly with the towel. There are all sorts of cold bath fanatics who submit themselves to exposure unduly with the notion that they will, in this manner, protect themselves against infections, catching cold, or any sort of disease. There is not the slightest evidence that the taking of a cold bath every morning is an effective protection against colds.

There is good evidence, however, that such baths are stimulating to the appetite and that they produce a sense of invigoration. The procedure described includes stepping into the tub, sitting down, immersing the body completely, and promptly stepping out again. Obviously for such a rapid performance the shower bath is preferable.

The cold sponge bath is used where water is not copiously available. A sponge is saturated with cold water and squeezed over the shoulders so that the water runs down on all sides. The body is then rubbed briskly with a coarse towel.

Baths in which all sorts of materials are placed in the water have little special effect, since most of these materials cannot be absorbed through the skin. The real value of salt water baths must be credited to the atmosphere and surroundings in which they are taken. Sea salt in bags does not carry with it the sunlight, the buffeting of the waves, the hot ocean breeze, the running and playing on the beach, or the pleasant observance of the surrounding country.

Hot vapor baths, such as the Turkish or Russian baths, stimulate excretion through the pores of the skin. They are not especially healthful for the normal person, but must be considered as in every sense of the word special baths for disorders of the physical condition.

Bathing is a habit. It should be indulged in as a routine with which only important exigencies should be permitted to interfere. Once the habit is begun it is easy to follow.

These Two Boys Can Stand Lots of Heat

The Unknown Teacher

By Henry Van Dyke

I sing the praise of the Unknown Teacher.
Great generals win campaigns, but it is the Unknown Soldier who wins the war.

Famous educators plan new systems of pedagogy, but it is the Unknown Teacher who delivers and guides the young. He lives in obscurity and contends with hardship. For him no trumpets blare, no chariots wait, no golden decorations are decreed.

He keeps the watch along the borders of darkness and makes the attack on the trenches of ignorance and folly. Patient in his daily duty, he strives to conquer the evil powers which are the enemies of youth.

He awakens, sleeping spirits. He quickens the indolent, encourages the eager, and steadies the unstable.

He communicates his own joy in learning and shares with boys and girls the best treasures of his mind.

He lights many candles which in later years will shine back to cheer him. This is his reward.

Worth While Verse

BUGLE SONG FROM "THE PRINCESS"

The splendor falls on castle walls
And snowy summits old in story;
The long light shakes across the lakes,
And the wild cataract leaps in glory.
Blow, bugle, blow, set the wild echoes flying;
Blow, bugle; answer, echoes, dying, dying, dying.

O hark, O hear! how thin and clear,
And thinner, clearer, farther going!
O sweet and far from cliff and scar
The horns of Elfland faintly blowing!
Blow, let us hear the purple glens replying:
Blow, bugle; answer, echoes, dying, dying, dying.

O love, they die in yon rich sky,
They faint on hill or field or river;
Our echoes roll from soul to soul,
And grow forever and forever.
Blow, bugle, blow, set the wild echoes flying,
And answer, echoes, answer, dying, dying, dying.
—Alfred Tennyson.

Time To Smile

HIS GOOD POINT

"Pa, what is a pessimist?"
"The pessimist, my son, is a person who adds to the happiness of others by staying away from them."—Boston Transcript.

TOO INQUISITIVE

"Where'd you get that black eye?" asked Smith.
"I got it," growled Jones, "as a result of asking another

Barbs By Tom Sims

Today's etiquette lesson: Don't say "No," say "Yes, with reservations."

George Washington never told a lie, but then he never had a radio.

A New York legislator would tax all visitors to New York 25 cents a day, to be added to hotel bills. As if the lily were black!
Prince William of Sweden says America is slow in the air. Maybe it is, Prince, but certainly not with it!

A Cleveland hairdresser offers a shampoo to the person who finds her lost dog. Is that a reward—or a warning?

The five memberships of the radio commission drew 900 applicants. It is good to know that patriotism and public spirit are still rampant.

Men are offered the course in household science at Vassar

Little Benny's
Note Book

Some lady came to see ma this afternoon, me going up to ma's room to tell her, saying, There's a lady down there to see you, ma, she says her name is Mrs. Miller.

Don't you believe her? ma sed, and I sed, Mam? and she sed, Never mind, go down and tell her I'll be rite down.

Wich I did, being a kind of a stout lady with a thin voice, saying, So your Pawleen Potesses little boy are you?

Meaning ma's, and I sed, Yes mam, and she sed, You look quite brite, are you?

Pritty, I sed, and she sed, That's good, I like britteness in children, hears 4 pennies for you.

I aint aloud to take money, I sed, and she sed, Quite rite, that's a way children should be brawt up. And she put the cents back in her thing and picked up a book and started to read it, and pritty soon I sed, Only if somebody put some in my pocket and I didn't find it out till afterwards, that would aint actually be taking it, would it?

Wat say? the lady sed, keeping on reading. Me not saying on account of not wanting to repeat it, and after a while I sed, And of course if somebody left some on a table or somewares w'd I mite axidently see it, that would be taking it either would it?

Wats that, wat? the lady sed, looking at me over the top of the book.

Nothing, I sed,
And jest then ma came down and I went up in my room feeling worse insted of better.

In the Long Ago

14 Years Ago Today
From the Register Files

MARCH 19, 1913

A St. Patrick's party was held by members of Hermosa chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

The following advertisement appeared in The Register: For Sale—Six room cottage, all modern, gas and electricity. Large lot with bearing trees. Price is $2200.
Would take good automobile as part payment. Schooley and Schenck, 604 North Main street.

R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, was charged by the state with the reappointment of $41,640, allotted this county by the state for use in the county schools.

The twenty-fifth annual convention of the Women's Presbytery of the Los Angeles Presbytery opened here.

Miss Helen M. Whitney, of Santa Ana, who disappeared on November 4, was located in East Highland, San Bernardino county.

John Munich, of Anaheim, who was reported as missing to Sheriff Ruddock, communicated with the sheriff in order to advise him of the fact that he had merely changed his plans and gone on a hunting trip instead of leaving for the east as he had previously announced.

Aviator Glenn Martin, accompanied by Attorney H. J. Forgy, left for El Centro where he had instituted a suit against some leading citizens of Brawley for $1200 that had been pledged Martin for a fight in that place. Martin claimed that he had never received the money.

ON THE SIDE LINES

Which May or May Not Be in Accord With the Views of The Register

By Horace McPhee

THE SEMINOLE PLAN—Offenders against law and order are liable to fight shy of Seminole (Okla.), where law breakers are not treated with nearly the degree of sympathy and kindness extended to them in some other parts of the country.

Seminole suddenly found itself a city, the capital of the enormously rich oil field of the same name. In the hurry and confusion incident to an unlooked for growth in wealth and population, no jail has yet been provided, although one is being built. So it is that, from time to time, law breakers are lodged in the jail of a nearby county, and, meantime, Seminole has a park which is provided with numerous seats. Offenders are chained to these seats, and during the last month no less than 3000 persons have thus been provided for—327 in one night.
Ordinary trace chains snap around the ankles of the prisoners with padlocks. When there aren't enough chains to go around, prisoners are locked to the benches with handcuffs.

A QUAIL STORY—At the risk of losing, for a time at least, that no inconsiderable portion of our population which enjoys quail hunting, this column will relate what is happening just now up in Modoc county in this state.

Thousands of quail, both valley and mountain varieties, have been driven from the higher elevations by the winter snows and are found in surprise valley feeding with the chickens in the banyards or making themselves at home around the farmers' haystacks. Quail in bunches of 20 to 50 are common sights on the streets and in the back yards of the town of Cedarville, and are so tame that they will pick up grain within a few feet of a person's feet.

MURPHY IS RIGHT—In the person of Charles B. Murphy Pasadena seems to have a citizen who has excellent judgment in political affairs, and a fine ability to discern the trend of public sentiment along political lines.

Mr. Murphy appears fully to realize that the United States senate, under present conditions is neither useful nor ornamental while, on the other hand, the average city council, particularly in California, does a great deal of good work for its community and does it well.

The Pasadena man was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator in his district last fall, but now he has seen the error of his way and is a candidate for city councilman, or, as it is termed in Pasadena, city "director" of that city.

It may well be that in years to come Mr. Murphy, after having made good as city director of his city, will say: "Why I was at one time ambitious to be a mere United States senator."

NEW JERSEY TREATS 'EM

ROUGH—Bootleggers get scant courtesy, as a rule, from peace officers in Southern California, and, thanks to our energetic and efficient officers, the life of the bootlegger, in this region, is not a particularly happy one.

But it is in New Jersey that the bootlegger finds that his path in life is indeed strewn with official thorns.

Sworn testimony given in a New Jersey bootlegging trial, the other day, was to the effect that in order to land a cargo at a certain port it was necessary to bribe the mayor, chief of police, two detectives, a police sergeant, a customs inspector, a dock owner and 13 others, 20 in all, each of whom got a "rake off" as much for each case of liquor landed.

MILK AS A SUBSTITUTE

Milk instead of champagne may be used in the christening of a ship, according to recent reports, and so far as is known, with equally good results. The milk from five finely bred cows, a Brown Swiss, a Holstein, a Jersey, a Guernsey and an Ayrshire, figured in the recent launching of a big ferry boat at Manitowoc.

HE HAS AN IDEAL

A man
now held in durance vile in San Francisco is charged with having ten simultaneous wives, or perhaps it should be written having ten wives simultaneously.

He makes no denial of the charge, and when a reporter asked him what he would do if he were freed, he replied: "Get married and settle down."

The Stubborn Leaf

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS

THE little non-conformist makes much unhappiness for himself. For one reason or another he doesn't want to conform to group law, he resents supervision, he is irritated by not being able to dictate. Now a certain degree of independence is an admirable characteristic, but, due to the fact that we live in groups, there are necessarily times when one's own impulses and desires must be subordinated to the interest of the group and the sooner the child learns this law the happier he'll be. Apparent non-conformity is not always stubbornness, however, we must be careful in forcing a child that there is not a more subtle reason such as self-consciousness, a sense of inferiority, too much dominating of his will at home—any of those factors which might make him appear onery when in reality it is only a case of over-ideal feelings. Rather than punishment he most likely needs just a little boost over the hill of non-conformity.
